Asia-African Conference Opens With Call For Unity

Delegates Adopt 7-Point Agenda

BANDUNG, Indonesia, Monday, April 18 (AP)—The Asian-African conference of 29 nations representing more than a billion people opened today with a declaration that the peace of the world cannot be safeguarded without a united Asia and Africa.

Dr. Achmad Soekarno, president of Indonesia, told the conference its first task was to seek an understanding of each of the 29 nations attending.

Speaking in the ball room of a former Dutch club before a deep wine-red curtain, the Indonesian president said:

"I hope this conference will give guidance to mankind . . . will point out to mankind the way which it must take to attain safety and peace. I hope it will give evidence that Asia and Africa have been reborn, nay—that a new Asia and a new Africa have been born."

Procedure Blow To Romulo

Soekarno told the delegates they must shake off the fears that beset the world and be guided by ideals and determination to forge a pattern that would benefit all mankind.

Opening speeches by each delegate were scheduled to follow Soekarno's address.

A conference source said the speeches would not be delivered personally, but would be submitted in written form. Such a course presumably would be a blow to Brig. Gen. Carlos Romulo of the Philippines, an orator, who is expected to be the chief spokesman for the West. He was reported to have prepared an all-out introductory speech.

Seven-Point Agenda

Earlier 24 of the 29 nations agreed on a seven-point agenda that appeared to be a victory for Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Nehru said Saturday he thought general principles should be discussed and not specific questions. The agreed agenda:

1. Cultural cooperation.
2. Economic cooperation.
3. Problems of dependent people.
4. Human rights and self-determination.
5. Use of nuclear energy.
6. Weapons of mass destruction.
7. Promotion of world peace and cooperation.

Japanese delegates said after the agenda meeting that if a proposal were made for a U.N. seat for Red China it would come under point 7. Some delegates said Red China was determined to get something concrete out of the meeting and not have the six-day session merely filled with talk.

Corsi Charges "Fairy Tales"

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Ousted State Department official Edward Corsi said today some stories about him are "little whispering fairy tales that the high paid public relations men around McLeod have been circulating around Washington."

Corsi and R. W. Scott McLeod, the State Department's administrator of the refugee relief program, have been cast in opposing roles since Corsi was fired last week as a department adviser on immigration problems, a job he held for 90 days.

Corsi said on a television program—CBS' "Face the Nation"—that one of the "fairy tales" was the published story that he had a plan to bring in a big group of Italian immigrant cooks and bakers to drum up publicity so he could run for the Senate from New York in 1956.

Corsi said he had no such political plans and "I never told anyone in the State Department I intended to run for the Senate."

He repeated a brief that he was fired because of attacks Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) had made on him. Walter has accused Corsi of associating with subversive organizations. Corsi has denied it.

McLeod testified before a Senate group last Friday that the Walter attacks had nothing to do with the ouster.

85 Japanese Dead Or Missing In Big Landslide, Floods

SAESBO, Japan, Monday, April 18 (AP)—Floods and landslides left at least 85 Japanese dead or missing today and 33 injured in southwestern Japan.

Most casualties came in a landslide near here. Earth loosened by rain engulfed part of a mining village Saturday and buried 67, nearly half of them children, police reported.

The landslide still moved toward Saesbo today. It is a mass of waste and earth built up over the years by the Abe Coal Mining Co.

It let go while most miners were eating dinner. The landslide buried 10 large dormitory-type apartments owned by the mining company.

National Board Asks Mediation Of Rail Walkout

ATLANTA, April 17 (AP)—The National Mediation Board in Washington today proposed selection of a neutral arbitrator to settle a Southern railroad strike as week-end violence brought mounting tension in nine Southeastern states affected by a telephone walkout.

Both strikes are now five weeks old. Four more rail unions have announced plans to go out at noon tomorrow.

The board addressed its proposal to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and its subsidiaries and to G. E. Leighty, representing the 10 AFL nonoperating unions involved.

Francis A. O'Neil Jr., board chairman, told newsmen the carriers promised a written reply and that the unions said they would respond soon.

G. C. Howard, director of personnel for the L&N, said in a statement the carriers "are prepared, and have been openly prepared, to agree to the appointment of a neutral arbitrator" upon these conditions:

1. The strike would end upon the signing of the arbitration agreement and the selection of the arbitrator.
2. The decision of the arbitrator would be unconditionally final as to both parties.
3. The scope of the arbitration will be within the recommendations of the president's emergency board.

Meanwhile, violence was reported in the strike of Southern Bell Telephone Co. employees in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana.

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins of Atlanta was slugged last night during the first demonstration of striking CIO Communications Workers of America in the Atlanta area.

Jenkins said he was hit while trying to place an arrested man in a patrol wagon.

The arrest occurred as about 350 persons milled about the downtown Atlanta telephone exchange after a union rally.

AURORA, Colo., April 17 (AP)—Two-year-old David Mark Counterman played in a crib at Children's Hospital in Denver today enjoying the life saved for him in a dramatic rescue last night after he tumbled 18 feet down a well.

Workers dug nearly four hours before pulling the blonde-haired boy from the shaft, 18 inches in diameter. The accident occurred in the back yard of his home in Aurora, a Denver suburb.

The rescue came six years to the month after the death of Kathy Fiscus, 3, who fell into a well at San Marino, Calif.

Truman's Attack On Eisenhower Stirs GOP Wrath

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Republicans hit back at former President Truman today for charging "political fraud" and trickery in the Eisenhower administration's conduct of foreign affairs.

"The New Deal peashooters will get nowhere," said Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman.

"Neither vicious personal attacks on the President nor the ridiculous efforts to undermine his outstanding record in office will succeed," Hall added in a statement.

In another of a series of GOP blasts, Sen. Bridges described Truman's speech at a Democratic rally here last night as a "vitriolic, partisan and unfounded attack" on Eisenhower's management of foreign policy.

Truman "Echoes" Stevenson

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, had unleashed a "similar attack" last week and Truman was "just doing his partisan best to follow along."

Truman delivered the principal address at a Democratic banquet honoring House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. In a wide-ranging attack on the Eisenhower administration, he accused it of playing "political tricks with the grave and serious issues of both foreign and domestic policies."

Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) accused Truman of speaking "with the facts concealed behind his own misstatements."

Setback To Bipartisanship

Rep. Keating (R-NY) called the former chief executive's speech a "most unfortunate" setback to bipartisanship in foreign policy. He said there are "very likely to be some speeches" this week in which Democrats would be told in effect: "Just quiet down."

Hall also hit into Stevenson, claiming a statement "that he is now for civil rights, social progress and peace sounds like he is about to hand in his resignation from the Democrat party."

That party, Hall said, "has never kept its promises on civil rights, and the three major wars of our generation occurred during Democratic administrations." He said "social progress was never greater than under Eisenhower."

Songbird Jailbirds Agree To Call Off All-Night Concerts

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 17 (AP)—The county jail's dusk-to-dawn jailbilly staged its fifth consecutive jailbilly concert last night, to the dismay of sleepless jailers, but it might have been the final performance.

The concert ended at 5 a.m. today after true talk between the five women prisoners, all serving terms for minor offenses, and Sheriff Murray Britton. He said the girls agreed to quit singing if regular meals are served them.

They have been on bread and water since Tuesday and all mattresses and bedding have been removed from their cells.

Britton said if the girls are quiet tonight they may be served one full meal tomorrow.

Stevenson Holds Off '56 Decision, Plans Speeches

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson apparently intends to put off a decision on whether to seek the Democratic nomination for president until next year.

Off today on a business trip to Africa, the unsuccessful 1952 candidate will get back into action on the national scene in a series of speeches beginning with one to the National Federation of Women's Clubs in Philadelphia on May 24. This speech, one to the National Education Assn. in July and a couple of commencement addresses are billed as non-political. But those who know Stevenson best believe he will have much to say about the domestic and foreign problems that are likely to beset the country in 1956.

Reaction to these speeches, plus political developments in the interval, may influence Stevenson on whether to try again for the nomination.

Here for last night's Democratic gathering honoring Speaker Sam Rayburn, Stevenson was clearly pleased with what he called the "uniformly good" party reaction to his foreign policy speech last Monday night.

Having announced previously that he was going to devote 1955 to private business and wouldn't be the attraction for party rallies, he hesitated before deciding on the speech.

Bowed To Pressure

But he said the pressure of messages from people he didn't even know urging him to state his views, plus a feeling that he didn't want to be regarded as too timid to speak out, decided him in favor of the talk.

At last night's $100-a-plate banquet, Stevenson confined himself to a brief talk paying tribute to Rayburn and saying the party must stand for three basic things: social progress, civil freedom, and peace.

Plot To Kill Bolivia President Uncovered

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 17 (AP)—The Interior Ministry said today it had discovered a plot to assassinate President Victor Paz Estenssoro and restore the government to the "oligarchy."

The ministry released a statement in which it gave details of "two simultaneous conspiracies." One, it said, was organized by members of the "oligarchy" and its other by the Bolivian Socialist falange, whose leaders are in exile in neighboring countries.

By the "oligarchy," the government apparently meant wealthy interests, some of which have suffered since the 1952 revolution.

The government said 60 men and 13 women are still jailed in connection with the plot.

Crime Thriller Linked To Student's Hanging

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., April 17 (AP)—A high school freshman was found hanged in his home late last night.

Propped up on a dresser a few feet away, Coroner Robert Babcock said, was a paper-back crime thriller which displayed a cover illustration showing a hanging man.

The victim was John Bingham, 14, Babcock said the youth's body was found suspended from the door of a bathroom adjoining his bedroom.

Peiping Accusations In Crash Of Airliner Protested By Britain

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Britain accused Red China today of attempting to make political propaganda out of last Monday's Air India plane crash without first investigating the cause of the accident.

A note to Peiping published today said Britain "must strongly protest against the Chinese government's accusations against British authorities which were made before time had been allowed for any investigation."

The plane, carrying Chinese Communist delegates to the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, Indonesia, crashed off Sarawak in the South China Sea. Three Indian crewmen were the only survivors among 18 aboard.

Peiping immediately charged the plane was sabotaged by American and Chinese Nationalist agents in the British colony of Hong Kong, the aircraft's last stop before the crash. Communist China officially protested British authorities failed to heed sabotage warnings from Peiping and did not take precautionary measures.

The note released by the Foreign Office today says Britain "does not accept any responsibility for the accident or for the consequences thereof."

Raab Plans Bid For Big 4 Talks

VIENNA, Austria, April 17 (AP)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab said today, "The Austrian government and Parliament will invite the Big Four powers to talks on the Austrian state treaty as soon as possible."

Raab spoke in the town of St. Poelten near Vienna. He did not disclose when or where the talks might be held or on what level.

The chancellor came home triumphantly Friday from Moscow with Soviet promises to end the occupation not later than Dec. 31, 1955. A final settlement also must have the approval of the United States, Britain and France.

Austrian informants said yesterday the chancellor plans to invite either the Big Four chiefs of state or their foreign ministers to come to Vienna. He may issue the invitation in a speech to the joint session of the upper and lower houses of the Austrian Parliament on April 27, the informants said.

Leg Infection Sends Lodge To Hospital

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, had an abscess on his right leg lanced today at Presbyterian Hospital.

Lodge told the reporter the leg was pierced accidentally near the shin bone by a thorn a week ago last Monday while he was riding a bicycle at Antigua, British West Indies. He had been vacationing there.

He plucked out the thorn but a part remained and an infection developed. When the infection failed to yield to treatment Lodge went to the hospital today and had it lanced.

Reserve Draft's Turndown Seen By Rep. Brooks

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted today the House Armed Services Committee will turn down tomorrow a Pentagon request for authority to draft youths into the military reserves.

He said Congress probably would scrap all of a bill designed to strengthen the reserves if asked to approve that provision.

The Armed Services group takes up the controversial question in giving final consideration to a measure worked out by a subcommittee headed by Brooks.

The Louisiana congressman said in an interview he expects the full committee to endorse the principal new provision, authorizing special six months' training for between 100,000 and 250,000 volunteers a year. The trainees, 17-19 years old, must be willing to accept long-term reserve duty.

But Brooks said the committee probably will reject a Pentagon proposal to use the draft, if necessary, to obtain the minimum number of volunteers each year.

Brooks' group split on the question and referred it to the full committee for final decision. Army spokesmen said they needed some form of compulsion to build up their reserves. Opponents attacked the draft feature as an opening wedge for Universal Military Training.

New Powers For President? Brooks said Congress likely would rebel against the entire program if asked to approve what he called a "second draft."

On a second controversial question, Brooks said the committee probably would approve authority for the president to call up around 750,000 reservists, without specific congressional approval, in a presidentially declared emergency. The president previously had this authority, but Congress took it away in 1952.

Aly Khan Flies To U. S. LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Moslem Prince Aly Khan arrived by plane early today from a South American tour.

Family Urges Survival Kit Changes After 3-Day Test

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 17 (AP)—What would you and your family do if your city were under bombing attack and you were forced to live in a small bomb shelter for three days, subsisting only on an emergency survival kit?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank George and daughters Diane, 12, and Vicki, 6, found an answer by living for three days on such rations in their home. They had no running water, no gas and no electricity.

Their colie, Pat, went through the ordeal with them—all for the sake of civilian defense.

They found that their chief enemy was boredom.

"We overcame that many times by setting definite times for different activities," said Mrs. George.

"Two o'clock might be parades, three o'clock time for Diane to practice the piano and for Vicki to color pictures."

The family agreed that foregoing running water was the greatest hardship. They wiped dishes and pans with damp paper towels.

The Georges came up with suggestions for modifying the contents of survival kits. Because refrigeration may not be available, they said, small cans of milk should be substituted for large, and medium sized cans of fruit juices for large.

The kits should contain more meat and soup, more instant coffee. The second day's menu should be the most substantial, the family believes, because that day morale seems to be at the lowest ebb.

The project is believed to be the first of its kind in the nation. It grew out of a suggestion by an editor of a newspaper for which Mrs. George, a free-lance writer, writes features. He suggested she test the food survival kit recommended by civilian defense authorities.

"Implications" Are Discussed By Ike, Dulles

Secretary Reports Danger Of Formosa Attack Intensified

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles today reported "an extensive buildup" of Chinese Communist air power opposite Formosa. Dulles called it "more intense and more broad than anything that has been known" until recently.

Dulles gave newsmen word of the buildup in a formal statement which was approved by the President after they had conferred for two hours at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters.

The statement said: "In relation to China, we discussed the grave implications of an extensive buildup, now in progress, by the Chinese Communists of offensive air power on the China mainland opposite Formosa."

Reports More Effective

At a news conference Dulles was asked by a reporter whether the "extensive buildup" was something new "or of some intensification beyond what we have talked of before," Dulles replied:

"It is a considerable intensification. It is considerably broader in scope than anything that was known until recently."

Saying then that perhaps his statement was not too accurate, Dulles went on to put it this way:

"It (the buildup) is more intense and more broad in its scope than anything that has recently been known. In other words our knowledge developed only during the last few days, due partly to the fact that we are now getting more effective and prompt reports from that area as to what goes on."

In reply to another question, Dulles said it would be "getting into security matters" for him to give any indication of the magnitude of the buildup.

He firmly declined to do so.

Austria Pact Prospects Brighter

Dulles was asked whether in his opinion "hostilities in that area (Formosa) will be more imminent than you would have thought, say, two weeks ago." He replied:

"Well, I have always made a distinction between capabilities and intentions. This indicates a higher degree of capability (on the part of the Reds to attack) than we anticipated a few weeks ago."

Dulles also declared the prospects for concluding an Austrian independence treaty seem brighter on the basis of last week's negotiations between Russia and Austria, but he said, "Nothing should be taken for granted."

He said the developments are "encouraging" so far as the possibility of a Big Four conference is concerned.

He spoke of the negotiations between the Soviet government and Austria as perhaps reflecting "the first fruits of a policy of patient firmness" on the part of the Western nations.

Rail Strike Ends By Court Order

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 17 (AP)—A wildcat railroad strike that had idled nearly 19,500 workers ended today under court order and the big Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in nearby Lackawanna rumbled back into production.

The mill, which employs about 18,000, was forced to shut down yesterday because of the walkout by 400 conductors and brakemen of the South Buffalo Railway, a freight switching line. The strike, which started Friday night over a contract dispute, also had idled an additional 1,000 railroad employees.

Steel production had been halted about five hours before members of Lodge 758, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, returned to work early today.

Officials of both the union and the railroad, a Bethlehem Steel subsidiary, had said the strike was not authorized.

The temporary court order was issued last yesterday by Federal Judge Harold P. Burke. A hearing on the company's petition for a temporary injunction is scheduled for tomorrow.

The shots were given by 175 volunteer doctors aided by 350 volunteer nurses. It was estimated 6,500 syringes and 20,000 hypodermic needles were used in the inoculations.

Stevenson Holds Off '56 Decision, Plans Speeches

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson apparently intends to put off a decision on whether to seek the Democratic nomination for president until next year.

Off today on a business trip to Africa, the unsuccessful 1952 candidate will get back into action on the national scene in a series of speeches beginning with one to the National Federation of Women's Clubs in Philadelphia on May 24.

This speech, one to the National Education Assn. in July and a couple of commencement addresses are billed as non-political. But those who know Stevenson best believe he will have much to say about the domestic and foreign problems that are likely to beset the country in 1956.

Pleased With Speech Reaction

Reaction to these speeches, plus political developments in the interval, may influence Stevenson on whether to try again for the nomination.

Here for last night's Democratic gathering honoring Speaker Sam Rayburn, Stevenson was clearly pleased with what he called the "uniformly good" party reaction to his foreign policy speech last Monday night.

Having announced previously that he was going to devote 1955 to private business and wouldn't be the attraction for party rallies, he hesitated before deciding on the speech.

Bowed To Pressure

But he said the pressure of messages from people he didn't even know urged him to state his views, plus a feeling that he didn't want to be regarded as too timid to speak out, decided him in favor of the talk.

At last night's $100-a-plate banquet, Stevenson confined himself to a brief talk paying tribute to Rayburn and saying the party must stand for three basic things: social progress, civil freedom, and peace.

Plot To Kill Bolivia President Uncovered

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 17 (AP)—The Interior Ministry said today it had discovered a plot to assassinate President Victor Paz Estenssoro and restore the government to the "oligarchy."

The ministry released a statement in which it gave details of "two simultaneous conspiracies." One, it said, was organized by members of "the oligarchy and its agents in the country," and the other by the Bolivian Socialist falange, whose leaders are in exile in neighboring countries.

By the "oligarchy," the government apparently meant wealthy interests, some of which have suffered since the 1952 revolution. The government said 60 men and 13 women are still jailed in connection with the plot.

Crime Thriller Linked To Student's Hanging

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., April 17 (AP)—A high school freshman was found hanging in his home late last night.

Propped up on a dresser a few feet away, Coroner Robert Babcock said, was a paper-back crime thriller which displayed a cover illustration showing a hanging man.

The victim was John Bingham, 14, Babcock said the youth's body was found suspended from the door of a bathroom adjoining his bedroom.

Peiping Accusations In Crash Of Airliner Protested By Britain

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Britain accused Red China today of attempting to make political propaganda out of last Monday's Air India plane crash without first investigating the cause of the accident.

A note to Peiping published today said Britain "must strongly protest against the Chinese government's accusations against British authorities which were made before time had been allowed for any investigation."

The plane, carrying Chinese Communist delegates to the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, Indonesia, crashed off Sarawak in the South China Sea. Three Indian crewmen were the only survivors among 18 aboard.

Peiping immediately charged the plane was sabotaged by American and Chinese Nationalist agents in the British colony of Hong Kong, the aircraft's last stop before the crash. Communist China officially protested British authorities failed to heed sabotage warnings from Peiping and did not take precautionary measures.

The note released by the Foreign Office today says Britain "does not accept any responsibility for

Explosion Preceded Crash, Survivors Say

BOMBAY, India, April 17 (AP)—Surviving crew member of the Air India plane which carried 11 Communists to death in the China Sea last Monday were quoted today as saying the crash was preceded by a "muffled explosion." This was followed, they said, by fire "emanating from an extraneous source wholly unconnected with the structure of the aircraft."

The statement could be interpreted to mean that a bomb or some other type of explosive had been placed in the plane for sabotage, or that lightning or some other meteorological freak had caused the crash. Airline officials said they were assigning no cause pending an inquiry.

The government-owned Air India line issued a statement here quoting three Indian crew members who were rescued.

Raab Plans Bid For Big 4 Talks

VIENNA, Austria, April 17 (AP)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab said today, "The Austrian government and Parliament will invite the Big Four powers to talks on the Austrian state treaty as soon as possible."

Raab spoke in the town of St. Pölten near Vienna. He did not disclose when or where the talks might be held or on what level.

The chancellor came home triumphantly Friday from Moscow with Soviet promises to end the occupation not later than Dec. 31, 1955. A final settlement also must have the approval of the United States, Britain and France.

Austrian informants said yesterday the chancellor plans to invite either the Big Four chiefs of state or their foreign ministers to come to Vienna. He may issue the invitation in a speech to the joint session of the upper and lower houses of the Austrian Parliament on April 27, the informants said.

Leg Infection Sends Lodge To Hospital

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, had an abscess on his right leg lanced today at Presbyterian Hospital.

Lodge told the reporter the leg was pierced accidentally near the shin bone by a thorn a week ago last Monday while he was riding a bicycle at Antigua, British West Indies. He had been vacationing there.

He plucked out the thorn but a part remained and an infection developed. When the infection failed to yield to treatment Lodge went to the hospital today and had it lanced.

Formosa Conference

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 17 (AP)—U. S. and Chinese Nationalist officers will open a military coordination conference tomorrow.

Reserve Draft's Turndown Seen By Rep. Brooks

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted today the House Armed Services Committee will turn down tomorrow a Pentagon request for authority to draft youths into the military reserves.

He said Congress probably would scrap all of a bill designed to strengthen the reserves if asked to approve that provision.

The Armed Services group takes up the controversial question in giving final consideration to a measure worked out by a subcommittee headed by Brooks.

The Louisiana congressman said in an interview he expects the full committee to endorse the principal new provision, authorizing special six months' training for between 100,000 and 250,000 volunteers a year. The trainees, 17-19 years old, must be willing to accept long-term reserve duty.

But Brooks said the committee probably will reject a Pentagon proposal to use the draft, if necessary, to obtain the minimum number of volunteers each year. The Louisiana congressman said they needed some form of compulsion to build up their reserves. Opponents attacked the draft feature as an opening wedge for Universal Military Training.

Brooks' group split on the question and referred it to the full committee for final decision.

Army spokesmen said they needed some form of compulsion to build up their reserves. Opponents attacked the draft feature as an opening wedge for Universal Military Training.

Brooks said Congress likely would rebel against the entire program if asked to approve what he called a "second draft."

On a second controversial question, Brooks said the committee probably would approve authority for the president to call up around 750,000 reservists, without specific congressional approval, in a presidentially declared emergency. The president previously had this authority, but Congress took it away in 1952.

The girl, from Allouez Township near Green Bay, Wis., died in Rochester Methodist Hospital shortly after noon. An autopsy was performed this afternoon.

Aly Khan Flies To U. S.

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Moslem Prince Aly Khan arrived by plane early today from a South American tour.

He said he would be in Hollywood a few days and hopes to meet with his former wife, actress Rita Hayworth, to discuss a vacation for their daughter Yasmin. Aly said he hopes to take the 5-year-old child back to Paris with him.

Family Urges Survival Kit Changes After 3-Day Test

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 17 (AP)—What would you and your family do if your city were under bombing attack and you were forced to live in a small bomb shelter for three days, subsisting only on an emergency survival kit?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank George and daughters Diane, 12, and Vicki, 6, found an answer by living for three days on such rations in their home. They had no running water, no gas and no electricity.

Their collie, Pat, went through the ordeal with them—all for the sake of civilian defense.

They found that their chief enemy was boredom.

"We overcame that many times by setting definite times for different activities," said Mrs. George. "Two o'clock might be practice time, three o'clock time for Diane to practice the piano and for Vicki to color pictures."

"Implications" Are Discussed By Ike, Dulles

Secretary Reports Danger Of Formosa Attack Intensified

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles today reported "an extensive buildup" of Chinese Communist air power opposite Formosa. Dulles called it "more intense and more broad than anything that has been known" until recently.

Dulles gave newsmen word of the buildup in a formal statement which was approved by the President after they had conferred for two hours at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters.

The statement said: "In relation to China, we discussed the grave implications of an extensive buildup, now in progress, by the Chinese Communists of offensive air power on the China mainland opposite Formosa."

Reports More Effective

At a news conference Dulles was asked by a reporter whether the "extensive buildup" was something new "or of some intensification beyond what we have talked of before," Dulles replied:

"It is a considerable intensification. It is considerably broader in scope than anything that was known until recently."

Saying then that perhaps his statement was not too accurate, Dulles went on to put it this way:

"It (the buildup) is more intense and more broad in its scope than anything that has recently been known. In other words our knowledge developed only during the last few days, due partly to the fact that we are now getting more effective and prompt reports from that area as to what goes on."

In reply to another question, Dulles said it would be "getting into security matters" for him to give any indication of the magnitude of the buildup.

He firmly declined to do so.

Austria Pact Prospects Brighter

Dulles was asked whether in his opinion "hostilities in that area (Formosa) will be more imminent than you have thought, say, two weeks ago." He replied:

"Well, I have always made a distinction between capabilities and intentions. This indicates a higher degree of capability (on the part of the Reds to attack) than we anticipated a few weeks ago." Dulles also declared the prospects for concluding an Austrian independence treaty seem brighter on the basis of last week's negotiations between Russia and Austria, but he said, "Nothing should be taken for granted."

He said the developments are "encouraging" so far as the possibility of a Big Four conference is concerned.

He spoke of the negotiations between the Soviet government and Austria as perhaps reflecting "the first fruits of a policy of patient firmness" on the part of the Western nations.

Rail Strike Ends By Court Order

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 17 (AP)—A wildcat railroad strike that had idled nearly 19,500 workers ended today under court order and the big Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in nearby Lackawanna rumbled back into production.

The mill, which employs about 18,000, was forced to shut down yesterday because of the walkout by 400 conductors and brakemen of the South Buffalo Railway, a freight switching line. The strike, which started Friday night over a contract dispute, also had idled an additional 1,000 railroad employees.

Steel production had been halted about five hours before members of Lodge 738, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, returned to work early today.

Officials of both the union and the railroad, a Bethlehem Steel subsidiary, had said the strike was not authorized.

The temporary court order was issued late yesterday by Federal Judge Harold P. Burke. A hearing on the company's petition for a temporary injunction is scheduled for tomorrow.

Museum Gets Ike's Jeep

VALLETTA, Malta, April 17 (AP)—The jeep President Eisenhower used as his personal vehicle while here planning the invasion of Sicily has been presented to the Malta Museum. Eisenhower handed it over to the Royal Air Force when he left.

Hoover Group Hits Government Waste In Sales Of Surplus

Some Goods Find Way Into Hands Of Reds

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The Hoover Commission told Congress today the government is wasting billions of dollars by piling up "mountainous" supplies of unneeded goods and then selling them as surplus at a fraction of cost.

Furthermore, it said some of these surplus goods unloaded by military services abroad are finding their way into Communist hands.

The 12-man bipartisan commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, said government supplies have now reached an "enormous pool" valued at 155 billion dollars and are scattered throughout the world.

The report estimated they will be disposed of at the rate of more than two billion dollars annually during the next few years. It urged "modern techniques of selling under the advice of merchandising experts" to recover much more than the 5 to 7 per cent of cost which present methods bring in.

But the biggest problem, the commission said, is to prevent the piling up of excessive surpluses in the first place. With proper inventory controls and "more realistic stock levels," the commission said, "from 10 to 25 billion dollars of supplies now in government warehouses could be eliminated."

The report said reduced buying, more efficient use of stocks on hand and more intelligent disposal methods "would go a long way toward eliminating the annual deficit in the national budget."

A task force headed by Gen. Robert E. Wood, former chairman of Sears Roebuck, found at Raritan, N.J., that on 10 items the Army had an average 32.6 years supply on hand.

At Mechanicsburg, Pa., the Navy had enough gear drives to supply needs for 128 years at the current rate of issue.

Better Use Of Cancer Weapons Is Advised

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The American Cancer Society said today that millions destined to have cancer need not die if resources for combating the disease are better utilized.

In its annual report, the society said that as a result of the growing number of older persons in the country and the present rate of occurrence, the disease will strike one in four Americans, or 40 million persons now living.

"Today only about one-quarter of those afflicted by cancer survive the disease," the report said. "But it is believed that at least one-half, or twice as many, might be saved with knowledge already ours, if only we will use it."

A primary requirement is that individuals seek medical attention much earlier than in past years."

Fears Grow All Viet Nam Might Go Communist

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The United States is casting about for a solution to the problem of governing South Viet Nam—with or without Premier Ngo Dinh Diem—before a blowup loses it to the Communists.

It was one of the issues Secretary of State Dulles took with him to his luncheon talk today with President Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga.

The State Department has denied a report, attributed to official French sources, that it has agreed to seek a successor to Diem, who has been unable to placate nationalist elements opposing him.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Eisenhower's special representative in Indochina, assured Diem at Saigon yesterday of continued full American support.

But no American official was willing to predict how long America's beeping up of Diem's regime, despite scant help from the French, could go on.

Sen. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen after a meeting with Eisenhower last week that he fears "quick trouble in Viet Nam." George added: "The situation there is not good now but we are always hopeful."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) reported to the committee last fall after one of his frequent trips to Indochina:

"It is unlikely that any independent non-Communist government can survive in Viet Nam... unless it represents genuine nationalism, unless it is prepared to deal effectively with corruption and unless it demonstrates a concern in advancing the welfare of the Vietnamese people."

Polio Vaccine Aid Fund Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) urged today that federal funds be used, if necessary, to "make certain" that every child needing the Salk polio vaccine gets it.

In a letter to President Eisenhower, he said he would welcome recommendations for federal aid from the White House conference which starts April 22 on distribution of the vaccine.

The Alabama is chairman of a Senate committee which deals with health problems. He suggested the White House conference.

Faure Is Reelected Regional Councillor

PARIS, April 17 (AP)—Apathetic French voters elected 1,669 members of departmental (county) councils today. The election hinged on local issues.

Premier Edgar Faure and several members of his cabinet were reelected as regional councillors. Scattered, partial returns available early tonight disclosed no instance where a member of the government had been defeated. Seven ministers stood for reelection to regional council jobs.

First returns indicated that Communists, Socialists and followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle were losing some strength.

Ex-Convict Is Found Hanged In Hotel Room

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—A 57-year-old man, released 10 days ago from the Federal Reformatory at Allentown, Pa., was found hanged today in a hotel room here.

Police identified him as Vernon W. Olive.

The body was discovered by a son-in-law, James Pfeifer of Chevy Chase, Md., near Washington, and hotel manager Russell R. Rushton.

'Limited' A-War Doctrine Draws Mansfield's Fire

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) declared today the effects of nuclear test explosions may pose a "threat to our well-being."

Mansfield thus took issue with the Atomic Energy Commission on what harm may come from atomic and hydrogen weapon experiments. AEC says fears have been exaggerated.

Mansfield called for a study by the Eisenhower administration and the Senate into "implications" of nuclear weapons development on U.S. foreign policy.

In a speech prepared for the Senate later this week, which he made public today, Mansfield said complete reliance in war on "suicidal" hydrogen weapons "may lead to self destruction."

"The latest move along this dangerous path is the new doctrine of 'limited' atomic war with tactical weapons, recently expounded by Secretary of State Dulles, with the endorsement of President Eisenhower."

"Tactical atomic weapons used on military targets only is a wishful attempt at minimizing the dangers of nuclear warfare. . . . We must not overlook the unpredictable changes in weather, human error and mechanical failures. Military targets, particularly airfields, are usually near towns and cities."

"A weapon large enough to insure the destruction of such targets will almost inevitably take a toll of non-military areas. To completely paralyze an enemy it would be necessary to hit the cities, the center of industry."

"The nuclear bombardment of cities might well turn war into suicide."

"Get The Preacher"

Twin Sisters, 92, Introduced To Twin Brothers, Also 92

NEWPORT, Ky., April 17 (AP)—"Get the preacher; we're ready," So said Mrs. Mary Cullen, 92, of Maysville, Ky., as she and her twin sister, Mrs. Eva Bowman, Newport, today met Fred and August Schulze, 92-year-old twins from Brussels, Ill.

Until a short time ago each set of twins claimed to be the older. Other twins since have claimed the honor.

The Kentucky women were born in Maysville, Jan. 11, 1863, and the Schulzes on Aug. 5, 1862. The men are widowers; the women widows.

Today's meeting came at the suggestion of the brothers.

They came here by airplane and met the women at Mrs. Bowman's home—after the ladies had waited nervously for hours. After the introductions, with members of both families standing by, the four moved onto the porch, where they rocked, looked at each other and seemed at loss for words.

Following a short visit, the men returned to the Greater Cincinnati Airport to fly home in the two private planes in which they had come to Kentucky.

Textile Strike Talks Fruitless

BOSTON, April 17 (AP)—A strike of some 23,000 textile workers in 24 New England mills went into its second day today with no apparent signs of a break.

Efforts to reach a settlement at five Bates Manufacturing Co. plants in Maine, with Gov. Edmund S. Muskie serving as mediator, collapsed despite what the governor called an "infinitesimal gap" between management and the CIO textile union.

Muskie said there are no further plans for negotiations although spokesmen for both sides indicated they will be available after the conference at Augusta, Maine.

The strike has idled some 6,000 Bates employees in five plants in Lewiston, Augusta and Saco.

Full effect of the strike will not be felt until tomorrow when a majority of the workers would be at their machines. Most of them are normally off on the weekend.

There was some orderly picketing on the first day of the strike from New Bedford, Mass., to Maine.

Doolittle's Raiders Hold Reunion Today

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Thirty-eight of the 80 men who flew with Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle in the first air raid on Tokyo in World War II are expected here for the group's 11th reunion tomorrow. Bob Hope and five governors will help them celebrate.

Doolittle, then a lieutenant colonel, led the raid in B25 bombers launched from the decks of the USS Hornet. That was on April 18, 1942. The raid, which also took in Yokohama and other Japanese cities, inflicted relatively little damage. But it came when the nation's undermanned defenses were still reeling from the Japanese onslaught and was a tremendous morale booster.

You're helping America set new records for thrift!

Good wages and high employment have given millions of families a better opportunity to build up their security through their own initiative:

- 43 million people own U. S. Savings Bonds
- 75 million people now have savings in banks and other savings institutions
- 93 million people own life insurance. That's 22 million more than in 1945. And the average amount of life insurance owned per family has almost doubled.

Of these and other forms of thrift, the most popular is life insurance, now owned by four out of five families.

These families find that life insurance gives them two basic advantages: it is the only way to create an estate instantly, and it is a sound way to build up a cash reserve for emergencies.

Life insurance can help support the family in case of the father's death... cover the mortgage... help pay for the children's education... provide retirement income.

Today, more than half of all life insurance benefits are paid to the policyholders themselves. Through these "living benefits," life insurance brings America's families opportunity—as well as security.

Doolittle's Raiders Hold Reunion Today

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Thirty-eight of the 80 men who flew with Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle in the first air raid on Tokyo in World War II are expected here for the group's 11th reunion tomorrow. Bob Hope and five governors will help them celebrate.

Doolittle, then a lieutenant colonel, led the raid in B25 bombers launched from the decks of the USS Hornet. That was on April 18, 1942. The raid, which also took in Yokohama and other Japanese cities, inflicted relatively little damage. But it came when the nation's undermanned defenses were still reeling from the Japanese onslaught and was a tremendous morale booster.

In change there is opportunity

$4,200 per family—that's the average amount that American families now have in savings accounts, savings bonds and life insurance.

You're helping America set new records for thrift!

Good wages and high employment have given millions of families a better opportunity to build up their security through their own initiative:

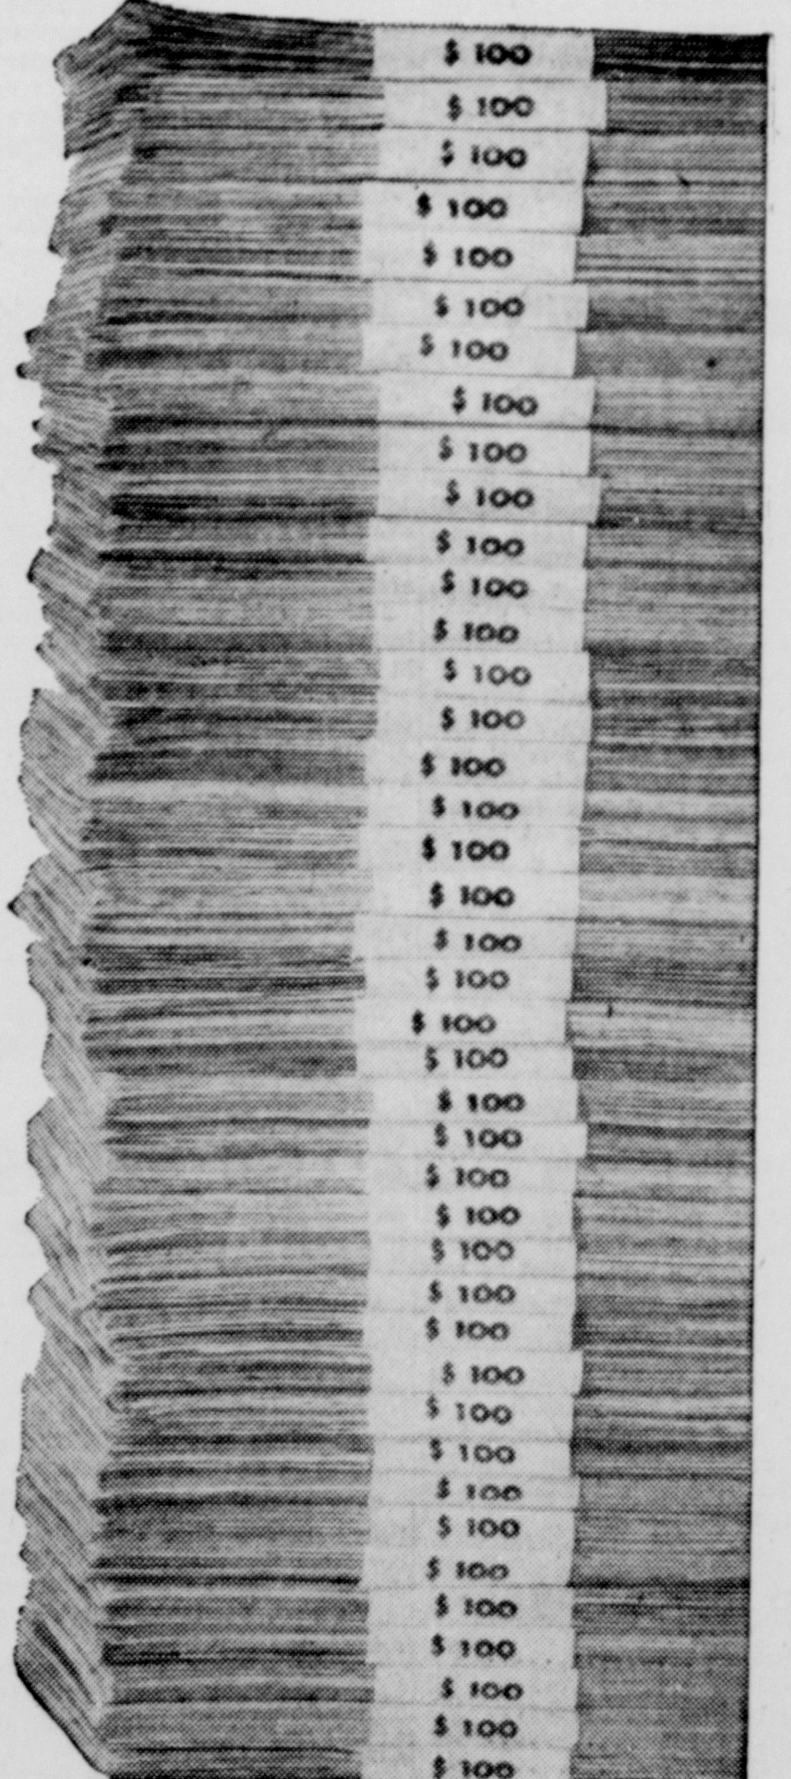

- 43 million people own U. S. Savings Bonds
- 75 million people now have savings in banks and other savings institutions
- 93 million people own life insurance. That's 22 million more than in 1945. And the average amount of life insurance owned per family has almost doubled.

Of these and other forms of thrift, the most popular is life insurance, now owned by four out of five families.

These families find that life insurance gives them two basic advantages: it is the only way to create an estate instantly, and it is a sound way to build up a cash reserve for emergencies.

Life insurance can help support the family in case of the father's death... cover the mortgage... help pay for the children's education... provide retirement income.

Today, more than half of all life insurance benefits are paid to the policyholders themselves. Through these "living benefits," life insurance brings America's families opportunity—as well as security.

$5,000 Needed In RC Drive

The Allegany County 1955 Red Cross campaign is within $5,000 of its goal for $37,000. Total collected or pledged to date is $32,088.63, according to Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman.

"Thousands of employed persons still have not contributed to the 1955 campaign", says Ebert, "and we must continue all efforts to make our goal to insure the continuation of the Red Cross blood bank."

Sufficient money has already been collected to meet the expenses of the local and national Red Cross essential services. However, the local chapter added the blood program as a service to the county three years ago, and $10,000 of the total goal is necessary to continue this blood gathering and processing service.

"Nobody wants Red Cross to discontinue the blood program", says Ebert, "but the money must be forthcoming to finance the project." Hospital administrators, physicians and surgeons and many other civic leaders of the county have joined forces to save the Red Cross blood program. Since its inception no person has been required to pay for blood or to supply blood donors in emergency. Adequate supplies of the needed blood types are on hand at all times in the three hospitals of Allegany County, thanks to the Red Cross blood program.

Campaign workers are continuing the drive for sufficient funds from those who have not contributed, from those who desire to make an additional contribution and from those who desire to make a contribution as a memorial to some friend or loved one.

Contributions should be mailed to Red Cross, Post Office, Cumberland.

River Dredging Gets Underway At Westernport

Western Maryland Railway Undertakes Flood Control Job

WESTERNPORT—Work has begun on a project of dredging the Potomac River here, between the inter-state bridge and the old Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, as a flood prevention project.

The task was undertaken by the Western Maryland Railway Company, using its own employees and equipment, augmented by equipment and employees of the George F. Hazelwood Company, Cumberland.

The location, near the mouth of Georges Creek, where it empties into the North Branch of the Potomac River, has filled up with silt, sand, gravel, rock and debris over a long period of time. An island had formed in the river, just above the mouth of the creek. Flow of the river, both at high and low ebb of the stream has been greatly impaired.

The spoil that is removed is being trucked to a low point upstream on the Maryland side of the river, where it is being dumped to raise a levee or flood wall. This wall will later be rip-rapped to hold it from washing.

Officials believe the removal of this island formation, clearing of the silt deposited by Georges Creek, and opening the river channel, will do much to protect the tracks and right-of-way of the Western Maryland Railway, as well as relieve danger to other properties. They point out, that removal of the natural obstruction will speed the flow of the river, and will also assist Georges Creek to empty faster in times of high water.

Governor Presents Gavel To Mayor Of Lonaconing

LONAONING—A gavel was presented by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin to Mayor Virgil Alexander on Sunday morning during his visit to the community and the First Methodist Church.

Engraved on the gavel is, "presented by the Governor, Theodore R. McKeldin." The Mayor was very pleased to have the presentation made, and said it will always recall his April 17 visit to Lonaconing.

Governor McKeldin spoke at the 11 a. m. morning worship at the Lonaconing First Methodist Church as a guest of the Rev. Joseph W. Young, pastor.

Georges Creek Group Studies Plans For Flood Prevention

Officials To Meet At Barton May 4

A program of information and education, together with a survey of damage, are part of the plan of the Georges Creek Flood Prevention Association, so a definite proposal and project can be launched.

On May 4, at 7:30 p. m. at the Barton Fire Hall, the Association will hold its third meeting to discuss the problem of floods and flash floods in the Georges Creek region.

The second meeting of the group was held in Frostburg last week, at which time the situation was aired at length and John W. Barnard of the United States Soil Conservation Service, University of Maryland, outlined possibilities to the group.

Barnard discussed steps that should be taken by the group to form a flood control project, and emphasized the fact that those attending the meeting were the nucleus of the association and should strive for a permanent organization.

Barnard said that the most important step to be taken is to arouse public interest and display its activities to residents of the Georges Creek section.

The second step in forming the association, he stated, should be the actual proof that such an association is needed in the area. He added that a door-to-door campaign or the visitation by two or three members of local parent-teacher organizations, church groups, Sunday School, fire companies and other civic organizations would assist in publicizing the need.

The group decided to prepare a questionnaire for the listing of flood damage, to be distributed in a campaign by the six fire departments in the valley. Distribution will begin in the near future and all residents are urged to list flood damages so that actual proof of the need for flood prevention can be shown to the government.

Fire companies to take part will be Westernport, Lonaconing, Barton, Midland, Shaft and Frostburg.

Barnard added that the third step in securing a permanent association is to have engineers and technicians determine damages in the area and suggest types of structures to hold flood waters in the area.

Attending the meeting were Virgil A. Ash, mayor of Midland; Virgil Alexander, mayor of Lonaconing; Robert Jenkins, Moscow; Benjamin Hyde, Moscow; Francis Philpot, Shaft Fire Company; Robert Blair, Midland Fire Company; Harry Smith, Midland; E. Stewart Delbrook, soil conservation service, Cumberland; Vincent Shuck, Valley High Booster Club; William S. Brown, Barton, American Legion.

Calvin G. Lamberson, Barton Fire chief; Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation service, Cumberland; William H. Johnson, district fore-

ter of the department of forestry and parks, Cumberland; A. P. Hoffa, mayor of Barton; Perry W. Myers, mayor of Frostburg; Charles Harvey, supervisor of soil conservation for this district, also chairman of the association; and Ewell Mohler, of the U. S. Geological Survey.

River Dredging Gets Underway At Westernport

Western Maryland Railway Undertakes Flood Control Job

WESTERNPORT — Work has begun on a project of dredging the Potomac River here, between the inter-state bridge and the old Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, as a flood prevention project.

The task was undertaken by the Western Maryland Railway Company, using its own employees and equipment, augmented by equipment and employees of the George F. Hazelwood Company, Cumberland.

The location, near the mouth of Georges Creek, where it empties into the North Branch of the Potomac River, has filled up with silt, sand, gravel, rock and debris over a long period of time. An island had formed in the river, just above the mouth of the creek. Flow of the river, both at high and low ebb of the stream has been greatly impaired.

The spoil that is removed is being trucked to a low point upstream on the Maryland side of the river, where it is being dumped to raise a levee or flood wall. This wall will later be rip-rapped to hold it from washing.

Officials believe the removal of this island formation, clearing of the silt deposited by Georges Creek, and opening the river channel, will do much to protect the tracks and right-of-way of the Western Maryland Railway, as well as relieve danger to other properties. They point out, that removal of the natural obstruction will speed the flow of the river, and will also assist Georges Creek to empty faster in times of high water.

Georges Creek Group Studies Plans For Flood Prevention

Officials To Meet At Barton May 4

A program of information and education, together with a survey of damage, are part of the plan of the Georges Creek Flood Prevention Association, so a definite proposal and project can be launched.

On May 4, at 7:30 p. m. at the Barton Fire Hall, the Association will hold its third meeting to discuss the problem of floods and flash floods in the Georges Creek region.

The second meeting of the group was held in Frostburg last week, at which time the situation was aired at length and John W. Barnard of the United States Soil Conservation Service, University of Maryland, outlined possibilities to the group.

Barnard discussed steps that should be taken by the group to form a flood control project, and emphasized the fact that those attending the meeting were the nucleus of the association and should strive for a permanent organization.

Barnard said that the most important step to be taken is to arouse public interest and display its activities to residents of the Georges Creek section.

The second step in forming the association, he stated, should be the actual proof that such an association is needed in the area. He added that a door-to-door campaign or the visitation by two or three members of local parent-teacher organizations, church groups, Sunday School, fire companies and other civic organizations would assist in publicizing the need.

The group decided to prepare a questionnaire for the listing of flood damage, to be distributed in a campaign by the six fire departments in the valley. Distribution will begin in the near future and all residents are urged to list flood damages so that actual proof of the need for flood prevention can be shown to the government.

Fire companies to take part will be Westernport, Lonaconing, Barton, Midland, Shaft and Frostburg.

Barnard added that the third step in securing a permanent association is to have engineers and technicians determine damages in the area and suggest types of structures to hold flood waters in the area.

Attending the meeting were Veryl A. Ash, mayor of Midland; Virgil Alexander, mayor of Lonaconing; Robert Jenkins, Moscow; Benjamin Hyde, Moscow; Francis Philpot, Shaft Fire Company; Robert Blair, Midland Fire Company; Harry Smith, Midland; E. Stewart Delbrook, soil conservation service, Cumberland; Vincent Shuck, Valley High Booster Club; William S. Brown, Barton, American Legion.

Calvin G. Lamberson, Barton Fire chief; Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation service, Cumberland; William H. Johnson, district fore-

ter of the department of forestry and parks, Cumberland; A. P. Hoffa, mayor of Barton; Perry W. Myers, mayor of Frostburg; Charles Harvey, supervisor of soil conservation for this district, also chairman of the association; and Ewell Mohler, of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Full Answer Sought On Atomic Radiation

An exhaustive investigation to answer once and for all the question of the effects of atomic radiation on human beings has been announced by the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D. C.

This study will include an evaluation of statements by various scientists that the human race will be affected biologically by atomic radiation fall-out from bombs already detonated. Other scientists have called such reports untrue and the resulting confusion has aroused general interest to the point where the public is demanding the question be resolved one way or the other.

Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, who is president of both the science academy and the Rockefeller Foundation, has assured the academy that the foundation will continue to underwrite the costs of the study. The Atomic Energy Commission, which has spent some $82 million in research on the same project, is releasing its papers to the group for appraisal.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the AEC, showed his enthusiasm for the study, saying, "no more timely service to the world's people could be performed by American scholarship."

The academy, which is composed of 500 of the nation's top scientists, has not announced as yet the names of the men chosen for this investigation. In announcing the exact aims of the study group, Dr. Bronk said the researchers should interest themselves with "all phases of the biological effects of the increasing use of atomic energy."

In addition to settling the wide divergences of opinion on atomic radiation, the report, if favorable, may hasten the day of widespread usage of nuclear energy for peacetime purposes. One of the drawbacks to industrial use of nuclear power has been the fear of radiation dangers. The conclusion of these investigators, then, may well put the red or green light on whether an entirely new age of atomic energy will open tomorrow or be postponed well into the future.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Freedom Of The Mails

Max Lerner, writing about Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., said:

"... In the years after 1935, hundreds of publications arose which were either directly connected with fascist movements, like Pelley's Silver Shirt paper and the Christian Front Social Justice, or, like more powerful newspapers such as the Chicago Tribune, tended to coincide with the Nazi pattern of anti-administration bitterness. To take the position that only specific issues can be excluded from the mails and that there can be no suspension of the second-class mailing rights as a whole is clearly to deny to the government an indispensable weapon for fighting the enemy, and to leave the nation at the enemies' mercy on one of its most valuable fronts. The long siege of proto-fascist propaganda in the United States, before Pearl Harbor, had left substantial elements of public opinion in a receptive mind for the most vicious anti-democratic and anti-war writing in our recent history."

Lerner, in a word, favored the suspension of second-class mail for Nazi and Fascist newspapers and magazines. But the Nazis never developed a movement in this country as powerful, as effective or as dangerous to the United States as the Communists have. Today there is no evidence of a meaningful Nazi or Fascist movement in the United States, but the Communists continue to disturb this country.

On this subject, Lerner says:
"I add one observation evoked by the experience of America with civil liberties in the period after World War II. This was a period of cold war rather than of war itself. The cold war nevertheless produced tensions far out of proportion to the actual strength of the Communist movement inside the United States, with a resulting constriction in the climate of opinion. The focal point shifted from censorship of printed matter to the inquiry into the political opinions of individuals—far beyond what could be justified by any reasonable estimate of the danger of these opinions to American survival. What was most dangerous to America, on the other hand, was that it stripped itself of some of the strength of the strongest weapon it had in the world-wide struggle with Kremlin power—the image of a free society."

From these quotations, we must assume that, according to Lerner, it was correct to suppress "the image of a free society" when it applied to the Nazi or the Fascist but it is wrong to apply the same rule to the Communists and their allies. It is difficult to follow the logic or the morality of this position. Either "the image of a free society" is to be preserved at all times, either we are to recognize free access to knowledge at all times or we give the Post Office authority over the minds of our people at all times.

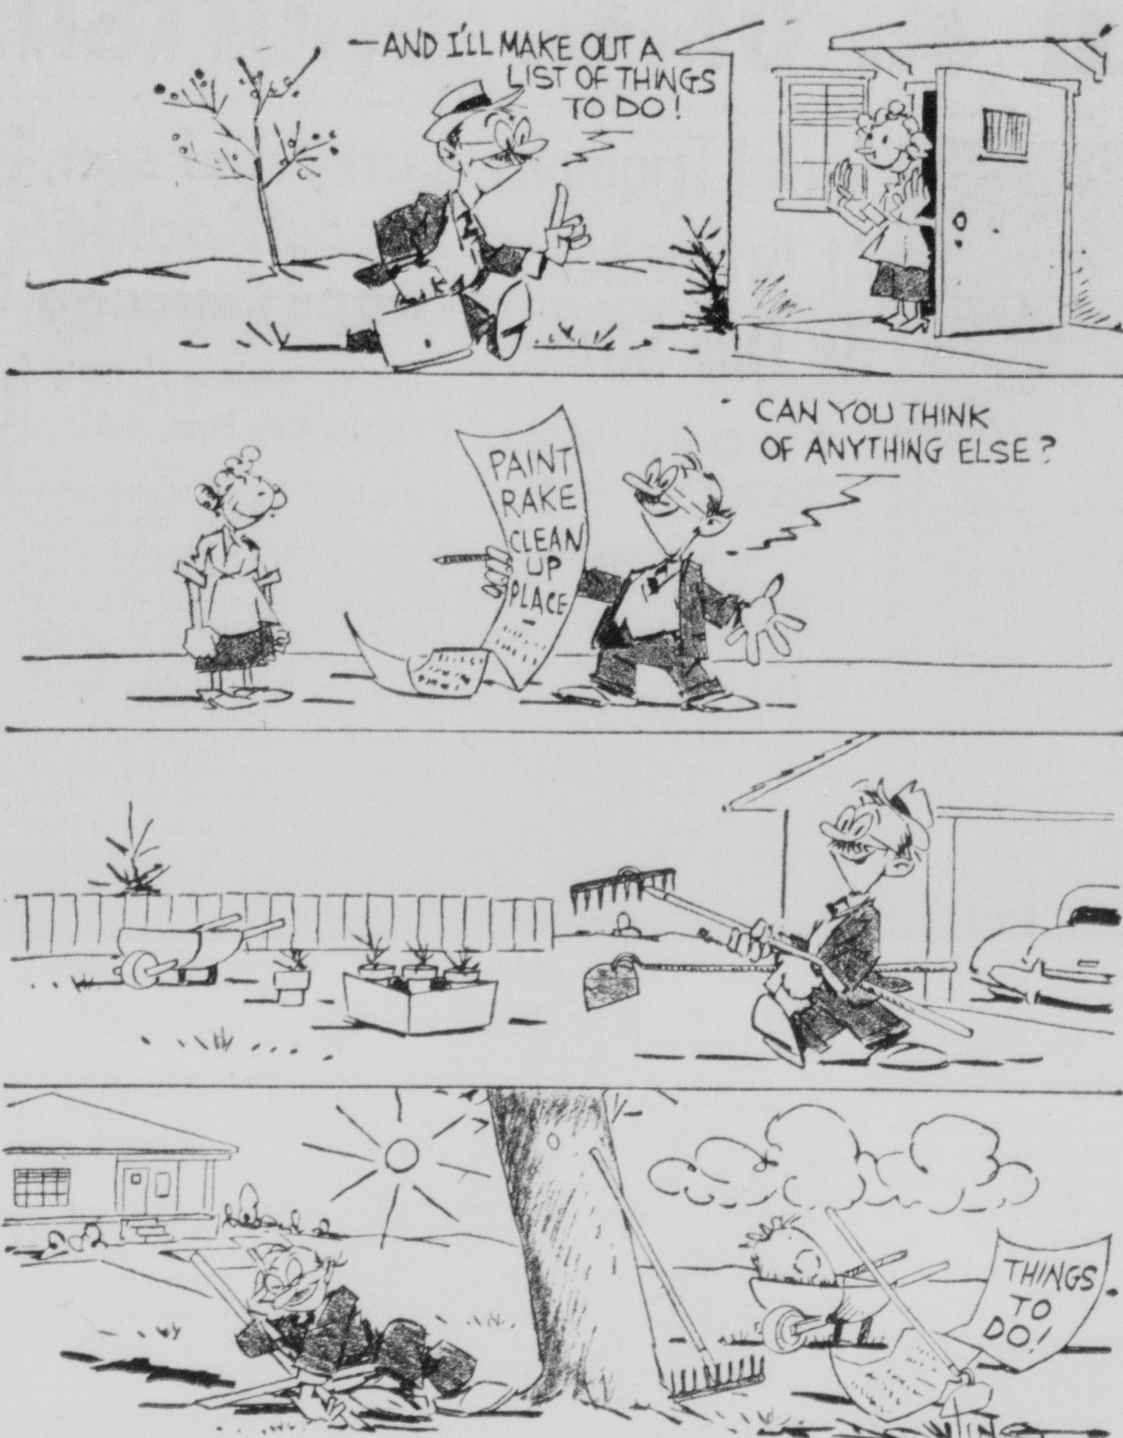

Max Lerner's appraisal of the dangers of communism in the United States differs radically from that of J. Edgar Hoover who, as director of the FBI, is more reliable an assessor of this conspiracy than any private person.

I have never been able to understand why the so-called liberals make the distinction between fascism and communism. In practice both violate human liberty. In theory both are a rejection of the American concept of the rights of the individual to freedom of choice, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Both elevate the authority of the state and degrade the individual to a thing controlled by the state. Both hated the United States and the Soviet Universal State is conducting a worldwide war against this country now.

It would seem to be more consistent and more fitting for a liberal, such as Max Lerner proclaims himself to be, to oppose Marxism as vehemently as he opposed fascism. On the other hand, one would have expected him to keep the mails open to all ideas, including those which he abhors. Any other view seems to me to violate, to obliterate "the image of a free society."

Many opponents of Hitler and the Nazi were prepared to risk the institutions that guard our liberties in the vehemence of their opposition. They failed to realize that they were inaugurating an era of conformity by pressure of majority opinion. Now the precedents they set are being turned upon them. The current practice of the Post Office to decide what Americans should know is an outcome of their activities.

Chinese Red Leaders Believe U. S. Is "Paper Tiger"

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa
In order to understand the Formosa crisis, we must try to see ourselves as others see us. And if we make this always depressing attempt, the sad truth comes out that the Chinese Communist leaders almost certainly believe that America really is a "paper tiger."

On this highly significant point, all the on-the-spot experts encountered by this reporter have been unanimous. The expert opinion is not surprising, either. For the Chinese theory that America is a paper tiger is rather squarely founded on the facts of the recent record.

In the period since the Eisenhower administration took office, there have been two tests of will and purpose between Peiping and Washington. The first test, whose outcome was the source of all the bustling current dangers in Asia, was the test in Korea.

In January 1953, America was tired of the Korean War, but China was utterly exhausted by it. Since August of the year before, half the cabinet of the Chinese Communist government had been in Moscow, to plead for more generous aid which was not forthcoming. In December, the Chinese had even made an independent peace bid through the Indians, only to be slapped down hard by the old tyrant Stalin.

A real victory in Korea would have given the free world at least 10 years breathing space in the Far East. But instead, after long hesitations, the administration gave the Chinese Communists a truce which both ended the Korean strain on their regime, and left Communist China as the unchallenged and predominant military power in Asia. The Korean truce led directly, inevitably and naturally to the next year's crisis in Indochina. As though astonished by this perfectly foreseeable consequence of their own decision about Korea, the Washington policy makers at first resolved that a surrender in Indochina "could not be permitted."

This decision of the National Security Council was freely publicized. The vice president himself informed the nation's newspaper editors that American divisions might have to be sent to Tonkin, and there was much other big, bold talk by those high in authority.

Meaningless Talk

But in the outcome, the big, bold

talk turned out to be meaningless. Protested only feebly, the American administration assented to the Far Eastern Munich at Geneva. Chou En-lai enjoyed a grandiose international triumph, and the fate of Indochina was sealed.

The Geneva Munich, in turn, led directly, inevitably and naturally to this year's crisis in the Formosa Strait. Once again, the Washington policy makers were visibly taken by surprise by the perfectly foreseeable consequence of their own act. Once again, the first reaction was big, bold talk in Washington. And now we are again entering the period when the big, bold talk is to be put to the test.

The Chinese Communist leaders might be less confident of the result, if the evidence of the two previous tests of will were not con-

Baering Down on The News

Litterly speaking Manhattan is now one of our higher class waste baskets.

We no longer give confetti ovations or ticker-tape triumphs to overwhelmed visitors.

That's because littering is now rewarded with a fat fine. You can't shoot your cuffs or bite your finger-nails without an alert gendarme doing the giant swing on your lapels.

Last week there were 3,672 summonses issued in the cops' book of the month.

Total assessments collected for the city averaged around ten grand. The lowest was two smack-ers for dandruff rampant upon a velvet collar azure. The highest was 50 dollars for shaking a smorgasbord tablecloth out the window.

There would have been more but a lenient judge tore up 11 summonses. And was fined 15 cookies for littering.

The biggest problem among our neat population is how to get rid of a Sunday paper. Most people wait for a hurricane and then put the paper on a slanting tin roof.

Most of the litter on Park Avenue is from torn-up parking tickets.

On Fifth it's hat tags and on Sixth it's paper cups. On Broadway it's parti-moult stubs.

Backstage Factors May Hurt Dulles In Probe Of Leak Of Yalta Papers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles has his alibi pretty well set up for the Senate cross-examination on who leaked the Yalta papers. However, there are a couple of backstage factors that may cause him trouble.

One is the report that one of his State Department officials has been leaking Yalta information to certain McCarthyite congressmen for some time. Long ago Dulles' subordinates had proposed that he be fired.

Another is the fact that Anthony Eden, now prime minister of England, specifically and definitely cabled Dulles asking that the Yalta papers not be published.

Dulles plans to blame his assistant secretary, Carl McCardie, for the leak to the New York Times, as reported in this column on March 21. Yet, as also reported in this column on March 21, McCardie never does anything without consulting Dulles.

Furthermore, after the papers had been leaked to the New York Times and the fat was in the fire, Dulles began to pressure the British to go along with the leak. So he obviously remembered Eden's very negative telegram.

This was on Tuesday, March 15. Yet on Wednesday, March 16, when Senators Knowland of California and Bridges of New Hampshire asked Dulles about the leak, Dulles denied any knowledge of it. In fact, Bridges quotes Dulles as saying he was "aghast" to hear of it.

So the Secretary of State may have trouble getting off the hook.

Meanwhile his subordinates have been wanting him to fire Bryton Barron, a long-time member of the State Department's historical section, for his reported leaks to McCarthyite congressmen and to the U. S. News and World Report.

At one time, the State Department had decided to oust Barron, then reversed itself. Scott McLeod, McCarthy's friend in the State Department and supposed to be in charge of security, is thoroughly familiar with these leaks, but has done nothing.

Senators Quiz McLeod

Scott McLeod, the State Department's bull-in-a-china closet security officer, acted like an innocent lamb when he was hauled before a secret meeting of a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee for questioning on his raging feud with Edward J. Corsi.

At one point McLeod told the subcommittee that he "lived dangerously." But he piously insisted that his relations with Corsi were "very friendly," despite Corsi's charge that McLeod was a member of an "intolerable minority" that was sabotaging the government's foreign refugee program.

So adroitly did McCarthy's pal in the State Department sidestep the Corsi issue that Chairman Bill Langer of North Dakota finally decided to summon Corsi himself for "more information." However, McLeod was forced to admit the veracity of at least one Corsi allegation—that only approximately 1,000 refugees have been admitted to the United States in the last 16 months.

"The correct figure is 1,044," admitted McLeod under questioning by Langer.

The bill permits the entry of 214,000 refugees and preference immigrants.

In the closed-door session, Democratic Sen. Tom Hennings of Missouri went after McLeod, quoting the following from Corsi's letter to Secretary Dulles:

"The program," Corsi wrote Dulles, "will not work until you and the administration are willing to rescue it from the grip of an intolerable minority, both in Congress and within the department itself, which believes that in this world there are superior and inferior races. These people are sabotaging the program and they brought about my elimination from this administration."

"Do you have anything to say about Mr. Corsi's charges?" inquired Hennings.

Pained Innocence

"This is very disturbing to me," replied McLeod, with an expression of pained innocence. "Mr. Corsi never complained to me. I had a very pleasant association with him, I thought."

"You mean to say that Mr. Corsi had nothing to do with the administration of the refugee program?" prodded Hennings in the secret hearing.

"He had no responsibility," declared McLeod. "He was requested to make a survey of the population (immigrants seeking entry) and report to the secretary."

McLeod added that he once wrote Corsi a memo asking him "not to speak to the press without the usual clearance procedure in the department."

"I wasn't in a position to give him orders, in that he was a special assistant to the secretary and not under my jurisdiction," pleaded McLeod.

"Well, what about this 'pleasant association' you claim to have had with Mr. Corsi?" pursued Hennings.

"Oh, we talked about the progress of the (refugee) program," replied McLeod. "I undertook to give him a briefing with respect to operations when he first came aboard."

McLeod rolled with the punches as subcommittee members chided him for dragging his feet on the refugee program.

"I haven't been satisfied with the administration of the program and McLeod will tell you that I have been saying for some time that I haven't been satisfied," said GOP Sen. Arthur Watkins of Utah.

"Perhaps you have erred on the side of being too inclusive and requiring too much rather than too little," suggested Senator Hennings.

"No sir, that is not true," countered McLeod. "I have tried not to err on either side."

"I think it is sometimes just natural and human that we try to be as safe as we can," needed Hennings.

"Well, I live dangerously," responded McLeod, cheerily.

A Real "Gold Mine"

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—This week we will forget the stock market and consider something much more important, namely, some very valuable brain power which is going to waste. I have in mind especially the brains of some of the so-called "physically handicapped."

Millions Handicapped

There are 165,000,000 people in the U. S. I estimate that about 500,000 of these are handicapped from polio and other diseases; 1,500,000 are living disabled veterans from World Wars I and II; over 1,000,000 are crippled from accidents; and about 150,000 are totally blind. There are many more suffering from total deafness and even inability to speak. These add up to 3,150,000, of which at least 1,000,000 have not the opportunity to make full use of their inherent talents.

Although they have pretty much been supplied with jobs of a kind, these 1,000,000 have not—as a rule—such jobs as will enable them to use their brains as they would like. This especially applies to those in wheel chairs and on crutches because—quoting an employer: "A wheel chair messes up the routine of the office or factory." In these days of keen competition management fears anything which might interfere with the flow of products or sales.

Money Versus Opportunities

The situation is becoming worse every year due to increasing automobile accidents, of which 36,000 resulted last year in deaths for which there were total awards of perhaps $400,000,000. Some will say that the non-fatal accidents and even polio can be offset by insurance, as are certain veteran incapacities, but there is no insurance which gives new limbs, new eyes, or even a fair chance to use one's brain. Yet, our brains are our most wonderful and valuable asset.

It is not more government money these physically handicapped need, but more opportunity to do creative intellectual work. Remember that in the above figures I am not including any medical or emotional mental cases. I am interested here in those who have distinct talents. Although the many unselfish agents and counselors of the federal and state governments are doing excellent work with the funds available, they deserve much more help.

Save Over $2,000,000,000

I estimate that of the above groups, one million adults are today able to use fully their brains and talents. However, much of this creative brain power and special talent is being overlooked. This is unfair to the nation, as well as to these people. Just think, with one million of these brains now idle, 8,000,000 working hours are lost daily, or more than 2,000,000,000 are lost each year. Based on only one dollar per hour this means a loss of over $2,000,000,000 per year.

To understand what the loss of these one million adult workers means, consider any city of about 3,000,000 population, such as Detroit, Boston, San Francisco, or Pittsburgh any one of which has 1,000,000 adult workers. This means the loss of as much creative brain power as is now engaged in the entire production work of one of the above cities. In saying this, I include bankers, merchants, professional men, as well as wage-workers.

Praise For Private Organizations

Let me applaud all those private organizations now engaged in helping the unfortunate. I particularly have in mind certain societies to help the blind, the national TB association, the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the American Heart Association, the American Hearing Society, the disabled veterans organizations, the U. S. and state employment services, and the Goodwill Industries of America, founded on a shoestring by a personal friend of mine, and now distributing annually the equivalent of $25,000,000 in useful work. The public little realizes the rewards which would come to the nation by activating these one million creative brains and submerged talents.

I forecast that these submerged physically handicapped, who are mentally talented and alert, can truly become "gold mines." I only wish I were younger and could devote my life to harnessing these brains, talents, imaginations, and visions. Many of them could become inventors of great note, from which the nation as a whole would benefit.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The club bore droned on: "I thought I was drowning for sure, I was going down for the third time, mind you. Suddenly my whole life passed before my eyes in sharp, clearly delineated pictures."

"Hmphh," snorted an alert listener from the depth of his leather chair. "I don't suppose one of those sharp pictures was one of me lending you that ten-spot back in 1932?"

The shapely Cole girl flunked her automobile driving test for the third time running, and burst into tears. "Cheer up," counseled the state examiner. "You can try again next year." "But how am I going to get back and forth to LaGuardia in the meantime?" demanded Miss Cole. "I'm a pilot."

Asked for the feminine of bachelor, a wise lad in a Bronxville school answered, "Lady in waiting."

Others collect odds and ends and guard them as though they were treasures. Suspicions of theft are aroused when they are misplaced, and many spats have originated in this way. The majority sleep poorly because they are afraid of the night. They wander about the house and occasionally slip and fall while going through dark hallways or on opening the cellar door by mistake.

Those who do not sleep at night should take an afternoon nap but too much sleep during the day is not desirable because of the risk of reversing the night-day schedule.

The senile must be watched but not restrained. The best policy is to let them alone so long as they are not doing anything to harm themselves or others. Meanwhile, eating properly should be encouraged. A reasonable amount of exercise such as walking keeps the body in trim.

Simple tasks and hobbies increase their morale. Medicines may be needed to calm those who are excited, restless, or noisy. The new drug, chlorpromazine, is useful along this line. Large doses of nicotine acid also are reported to be helpful in combating anxiety.

DROOLING BABY

A. G. writes: My 21-month-old grandson drools all day long since he started teething. His chest is never dry even though we change his shirt often.

REPLY

Drooling often is associated with teething because of gum irritation. Or, it may be that the child has not learned to swallow saliva.

PALE AND WEAK

L. D. writes: How does pernicious anemia affect the sufferer?

REPLY

Weakness and pallor are the most common manifestations. Unless properly treated, control of the legs may be lost because of changes that develop in the spinal cord. This is the most serious complication of pernicious anemia and is the main reason why physicians insist upon adequate treatment with vitamin B12 or liver extract.

LOSS OF PIGMENT

E. W. writes: Is premature graying of hair a glandular problem?

REPLY

Possibly. In most instances there is a hereditary background.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Full Answer Sought On Atomic Radiation

An exhaustive investigation to answer once and for all the question of the effects of atomic radiation on human beings has been announced by the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D. C.

This study will include an evaluation of statements by various scientists that the human race will be affected biologically by atomic radiation fall-out from bombs already detonated. Other scientists have called such reports untrue and the resulting confusion has aroused general interest to the point where the public is demanding the question be resolved one way or the other.

Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, who is president of both the science academy and the Rockefeller Foundation, has assured the academy that the foundation will continue to underwrite the costs of the study. The Atomic Energy Commission, which has spent some $82 million in research on the same project, is releasing its papers to the group for appraisal.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the AEC, showed his enthusiasm for the study, saying, "no more timely service to the world's people could be performed by American scholarship."

The academy, which is composed of 500 of the nation's top scientists, has not announced as yet the names of the men chosen for this investigation. In announcing the exact aims of the study group, Dr. Bronk said the researchers should interest themselves with "all phases of the biological effects of the increasing use of atomic energy."

In addition to settling the wide divergences of opinion on atomic radiation, the report, if favorable, may hasten the day of widespread usage of nuclear energy for peacetime purposes. One of the drawbacks to industrial use of nuclear power has been the fear of radiation dangers. The conclusion of these investigators, then, may well put the red or green light on whether an entirely new age of atomic energy will open tomorrow or be postponed well into the future.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Freedom Of The Mails

Max Lerner, writing about Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., said:

"... In the years after 1935, hundreds of publications arose which were either directly connected with fascist movements, like Pelley's Silver Shirt paper and the Christian Front Social Justice, or, like more powerful newspapers such as the Chicago Tribune, tended to coincide with the Nazi pattern out of anti-administration bitterness. To take the position that only specific issues can be excluded from the mails and that there can be no suspension of the second-class mailing rights as a whole is clearly to deny to the government an indispensable weapon for fighting the enemy, and to leave the nation at the enemies' mercy on one of its most valuable fronts. The long siege of proto-fascist propaganda in the United States, before Pearl Harbor, had left substantial elements of public opinion in a receptive mind for the most vicious anti-democratic and anti-war writing in our recent history."

Lerner, in a word, favored the suspension of second-class mail for Nazi and Fascist newspapers and magazines. But the Nazis never developed a movement in this country as powerful, as effective or as dangerous to the United States as the Communists have. Today there is no evidence of a meaningful Nazi or Fascist movement in the United States, but the Communists continue to disturb this country.

On this subject, Lerner says:
"I add one observation evoked by the experience of America with civil liberties in the period after World War II. This was a period of cold war rather than of war itself. The cold war nevertheless produced tensions far out of proportion to the actual strength of the Communist movement inside the United States, with a resulting constriction in the climate of opinion. The focal point shifted from censorship of printed matter to the inquiry into the political opinions of individuals—far beyond what could be justified by any reasonable estimate of the danger of these opinions to American survival. What was most dangerous to America, on the other hand, was that it stripped itself of some of the strength of the strongest weapon it had in the world-wide struggle with Kremlin power—the image of a free society."

From these quotations, we must assume that, according to Lerner, it was correct to suppress "the image of a free society" when it applied to the Nazi or the Fascist but it is wrong to apply the same rule to the Communists and their allies. It is difficult to follow the logic or the morality of this position. Either "the image of a free society" is to be preserved at all times, either we are to recognize free access to knowledge at all times or we give the Post Office authority over the minds of our people at all times.

Max Lerner's appraisal of the dangers of communism in the United States differs radically from that of J. Edgar Hoover who, as director of the FBI, is more reliable an assessor of this conspiracy than any private person.

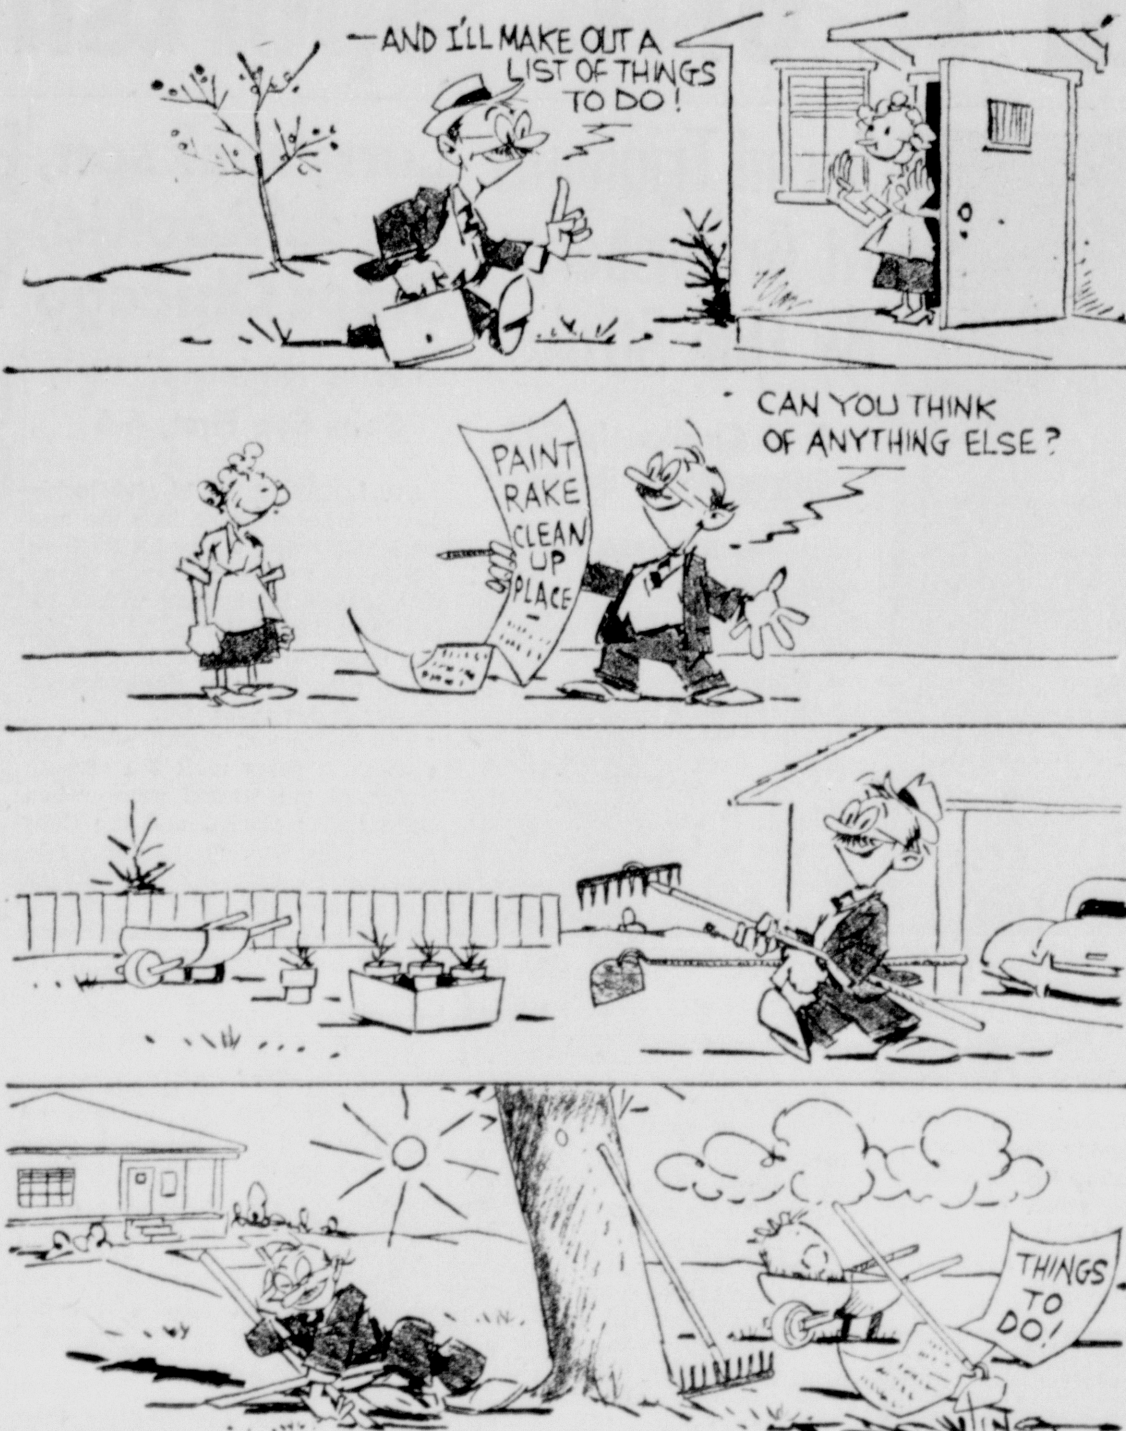

I have never been able to understand why the so-called liberals make the distinction between fascism and communism. In practice both violate human liberty. In theory both are a rejection of the American concept of the rights of the individual to freedom of choice, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Both elevate the authority of the state and degrade the individual to a thing controlled by the state. Both hated the United States and the Soviet Universal State is conducting a worldwide war against this country now.

It would seem to be more consistent and more fitting for a liberal, such as Max Lerner proclaims himself to be, to oppose Marxism as vehemently as he opposed fascism. On the other hand, one would have expected him to keep the mails open to all ideas, including those which he abhors. Any other view seems to me to violate, to obliterate "the image of a free society."

Many opponents of Hitler and the Nazi were prepared to risk the institutions that guard our liberties in the vehemence of their opposition. They failed to realize that they were inaugurating an era of conformity by pressure of majority opinion. Now the precedents they set are being turned upon them. The current practice of the Post Office to decide what Americans should know is an outcome of their activities.

The Springtime Urge

Chinese Red Leaders Believe U. S. Is "Paper Tiger"

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa
In order to understand the Formosa crisis, we must try to see ourselves as others see us. And if we make this always depressing attempt, the sad truth comes out that the Chinese Communist leaders almost certainly believe that America really is a "paper tiger."

On this highly significant point, all the on-the-spot experts encountered by this reporter have been unanimous. The expert opinion is not surprising, either. For the Chinese theory that America is a paper tiger is rather squarely founded on the facts of the recent record.

In the period since the Eisenhower administration took office, there have been two tests of will and purpose between Peiping and Washington. The first test, whose outcome was the source of all the bustling current dangers in Asia, was the test in Korea.

In January 1953, America was tired of the Korean War, but China was utterly exhausted by it. Since August of the year before, half the cabinet of the Chinese Communist government had been in Moscow, to plead for more generous aid which was not forthcoming. In December, the Chinese had even made an independent peace bid through the Indians, only to be slapped down hard by the old tyrant Stalin.

Hanging On The Ropes

In the winter of 1953, in short, the Chinese were visibly hanging on the ropes. Whatever errors may have gone before—and this reporter thinks there were many such—the winter when President Eisenhower took office was the ideal moment to mobilize America's resources and go in to win in Korea.

A real victory in Korea would have given the free world at least 10 years breathing space in the Far East. But instead, after long hesitations, the administration gave the Chinese Communists a truce which both ended the Korean strain on their regime, and left Communist China as the unchallenged and predominant military power in Asia. The Korean truce led directly, inevitably and naturally to the next year's crisis in Indochina. As though astonished by this perfectly foreseeable consequence of their own decision about Korea, the Washington policy makers at first resolved that a surrender in Indochina "could not be permitted." This decision of the National Security Council was freely publicized. The vice president himself informed the nation's newspaper editors that American divisions might have to be sent to Tonkin, and there was much other big, bold talk by those high in authority.

Meaningless Talk

But in the outcome, the big, bold

talk turned out to be meaningless. Protested only feebly, the American administration assented to the Far Eastern Munich at Geneva. Chou En-lai enjoyed a grandiose international triumph, and the fate of Indochina was sealed. The Geneva Munich, in turn, led directly, inevitably and naturally to this year's crisis in the Formosa Strait. Once again, the Washington policy makers were visibly taken by surprise by the perfectly foreseeable consequence of their own act. Once again, the first reaction was big, bold talk in Washington. And now we are again entering the period when the big, bold talk is to be put to the test.

The Chinese Communist leaders might be less confident of the result, if the evidence of the two previous tests of will were not con-

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Litterly speaking Manhattan is now one of our higher class waste baskets.

We no longer give confetti ovals or ticker-tape triumphs to overwhelmed visitors.

That's because littering is now rewarded with a fat fine. You can't shoot your cuffs or bite your finger-nail without an alert gendarme doing the giant swing on your lapels.

Last week there were 3,672 summonses issued in the cops' book of the month.

Total assessments collected for the city averaged around ten grand. The lowest was two smack-ers for dandruff rampant upon a velvet collar azure. The highest was 50 dollars for shaking a smorgasbord tablecloth out the window.

There would have been more but a lenient judge tore up 11 summonses. And was fined 15 cookies for littering.

The biggest problem among our neat population is how to get rid of a Sunday paper. Most people wait for a hurricane and then put the paper on a slanting tin roof.

Most of the litter on Park Avenue is from torn-up parking tickets.

On Fifth it's hat tags and on Sixth it's paper cups. On Broadway it's pari-mutuel stubs.

Backstage Factors May Hurt Dulles In Probe Of Leak Of Yalta Papers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles has his alibis pretty well set up for the Senate cross-examination on who leaked the Yalta papers. However, there are a couple of backstage factors that may cause him trouble.

One is the report that one of his State Department officials has been leaking Yalta information to certain McCarthyite congressmen for some time. Long ago Dulles' subordinates had proposed that he be fired.

Another is the fact that Anthony Eden, now prime minister of England, specifically and definitely cabled Dulles asking that the Yalta papers not be published.

Dulles plans to blame his assistant secretary, Carl McCordle, for the leak to the New York Times, as reported in this column on March 21. Yet, as also reported in this column on March 21, McCordle never does anything without consulting Dulles.

Furthermore, after the papers had been leaked to the New York Times and the fact was in the fire, Dulles began to pressure the British to go along with the leak. So he obviously remembered Eden's very negative telegram.

This was on Tuesday, March 15. Yet on Wednesday, March 16, when Senators Knowland of California and Bridges of New Hampshire asked Dulles about the leak, Dulles denied any knowledge of it. In fact, Bridges quizzed Dulles as saying he was "aghast" to hear of it.

So the Secretary of State may have trouble getting off the hook.

Meanwhile his subordinates have been wanting him to fire Bryton Barron, a long-time member of the

brought about my elimination from this administration.

"Do you have anything to say about Mr. Corsi's charges?" inquired Hennings.

Pained Innocence
"This is very disturbing to me," replied McLeod, with an expression of pained innocence. "Mr. Corsi never complained to me. I had a very pleasant association with him, I thought."

"You mean to say that Mr. Corsi had nothing to do with the administration of the refugee program?" prodded Hennings in the secret hearing.

"He had no responsibility," declared McLeod. "He was requested to make a survey of the population (immigrants seeking entry) and report to the secretary."

McLeod added that he once wrote Corsi a memo asking him "not to speak to the press without the usual clearance procedure in the department."

"I wasn't in a position to give him orders, in that he was a special assistant to the secretary and not under my jurisdiction," pleaded McLeod.

"Well, what about this 'pleasant association' you claim to have had with Mr. Corsi?" pursued Hennings.

"Oh, we talked about the progress of the (refugee) program," replied McLeod. "I undertook to give him a briefing with respect to operations when he first came aboard."

McLeod rolled with the punches as subcommittee members chided him for dragging his feet on the refugee program.

"I haven't been satisfied with the administration of the program and McLeod will tell you that I have been saying for some time that I haven't been satisfied," said GOP Sen. Arthur Watkins of Utah.

"Perhaps you have erred on the side of being too inclusive and requiring too much rather than too little," suggested Senator Hennings.

"No sir, that is not true," countered McLeod. "I have tried not to err on either side."

"I think it is sometimes just natural and human that we try to be as safe as we can," needed Hennings.

"Well, I live dangerously," responded McLeod, cheerily.

A Real "Gold Mine"

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—This week we will forget the stock market and consider something much more important, namely, some very valuable brain power which is going to waste. I have in mind especially the brains of some of the so-called "physically handicapped."

Millions Handicapped

There are 165,000,000 people in the U. S. I estimate that about 500,000 of these are handicapped from polio and other diseases; 1,500,000 are living disabled veterans from World Wars I and II; over 1,000,000 are crippled from accidents; and about 150,000 are totally blind.

There are many more suffering from total deafness and even inability to speak. These add up to 3,150,000, of which at least 1,000,000 have not the opportunity to make full use of their inherent talents.

Although they have pretty much been supplied with jobs of a kind, these 1,000,000 have not—as a rule—such jobs as will enable them to use their brains as they would like. This especially applies to those in wheel chairs and on crutches because—quoting an employer: "A wheel chair messes up the routine of the office or factory." In these days of keen competition management fears anything which might interfere with the flow of products or sales.

Money Versus Opportunities
The situation is becoming worse every year due to increasing automobile accidents, of which 36,000 resulted last year in deaths for which there were total awards of perhaps $400,000,000. Some will say that the non-fatal accidents and even polio can be offset by insurance, as are certain veteran incapacities, but there is no insurance which gives new limbs, new eyes, or even a fair chance to use one's brain. Yet, our brains are our most wonderful and valuable asset.

It is not more government money these physically handicapped need, but more opportunity to do creative intellectual work. Remember that in the above figures I am not including any medical or emotional mental cases. I am interested here in those who have distinct talents. Although the many unselfish agents and counselors of the federal and state governments are doing excellent work with the funds available, they deserve much more help.

Save Over $2,000,000,000

I estimate that of the above groups, one million adults are today able to use fully their brains and talents. However, much of this creative brain power and special talent is being overlooked. This is unfair to the nation, as well as to these people. Just think, with one million of these brains now idle, 8,000,000 working hours are lost daily, or more than 2,000,000,000 are lost each year. Based on only one dollar per hour this means a loss of over $2,000,000,000 per year.

To understand what the loss of these one million adult workers means, consider any city of about 3,000,000 population, such as Detroit, Boston, San Francisco, or Pittsburgh any one of which has 1,000,000 adult workers. This means the loss of as much creative brain power as is now engaged in the entire production work of one of the above cities. In saying this, I include bankers, merchants, professional men, as well as wage-workers.

Praise For Private Organizations

Let me applaud all those private organizations now engaged in helping the unfortunate. I particularly have in mind certain societies to help the blind, the national TB association, the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the American Heart Association, the American Hearing Society, the disabled veterans organizations, the U. S. and state employment services, and the Goodwill Industries of America, founded on a shoestring by a personal friend of mine, and now distributing annually the equivalent of $25,000,000 in useful work. The public little realizes the rewards which would come to the nation by activating these one million creative brains and submerged talents.

I forecast that these submerged physically handicapped, who are mentally talented and alert, can truly become "gold mines." I only wish I were younger and could devote my life to harnessing these brains, talents, imaginations, and visions. Many of them could become inventors of great note, from which the nation as a whole would benefit.

The club bore down on me. "I thought I was drowning for sure, I was going down for the third time, mind you. Suddenly my whole life passed before my eyes in sharp, clearly delineated pictures."

Ronnie Phillips Wins 16th K. of C. Sportsmanship Award

Ridgeley High Player Given Wrist Watch

Hartman Presented Trophies And Cash; 150 Attend Affair

By GEORGE ESKIN

Ronnie Phillips, Ridgeley High School's three-sport star, became the recipient of the 16th annual and possibly the last Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship award for basketball at the annual banquet in the K of C home last night.

The five-foot, 11-inch senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins, 10 Silver Street, Ridgeley, is the third Ridgeley standout to be honored, having been preceded by Bill Brehany in 1948 and Paul Lindsay in 1950.

A real hustler, Phillips tallied 583 points in three years of varsity competition and was selected to the All-Potomac Valley Conference team, the sectional all-tournament team, and served as co-captain of the team this season.

The affair turned out to be one honoring West Virginia athletes and sports figures. For Carl Hartman, former Ridgeley High stand-out who established the national career scoring record with 3,473 points for Alderson-Broadus College, received five trophies and a purse valued at over $200 in cash and gift certificates.

Following the meal, John W. Kreidler, Grand Knight of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, welcomed a gathering of approximately 150 players, coaches, and sports enthusiasts, and inadvertently introduced a topic which was prevalent in many speeches, i. e., the possible abolition of the memorial sportsmanship award.

Kreidler stated that the award not only encourages boys in organized sports to exhibit fine sportsmanship, but it also serves as an aid to combating juvenile delinquency by stimulating greater interest in participation in athletics.

Finan Is Toastmaster
Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland City Solicitor, and toastmaster, stated that this year's award is a tribute to the first two members of the original old Cumberland Caseys basketball team to die, John Stakem and Francis McMillen.

Rex Pyles, head basketball coach at Alderson-Broadus and main speaker for the occasion then presented each of the eight school nominees with miniature gold basketballs engraved with the letter of their respective schools.

These were given to Dorcil Kline and Jon Hann, Fort Hill; Hugh Steele and Jim Sisk, Allegany; Ricky Harris and Phil Geatz, LaSalle; and Paul Lockard and Phillips, Ridgeley.

Pence Presents Award
Bob Pence, Cumberland's Recreation Department leader and chairman of the three man selection committee, then stated the qualifications of the award before making the presentation to Phillips.

Based on these qualifications, Pence questioned the recent rulings of the Maryland Public Secondary School Athletic Association which would banish the Sportsmanship Award, and offered to serve with members of the K of C in an attempt to see the proper authorities about possibly preserving the honor.

Earl Nonnenmann of the Sports Shoppe, who donated the beautiful 20-inch trophy to Hartman, presented the prize, engraved to "Carl Hartman, National College Scoring Record—1951-55—3,473 Points."

Jimmy Flanagan, presented the purse to the Alderson-Broadus star.

Finan then introduced the four local basketball coaches, Chester Payne, Ridgeley mtor, expressed the hope that "in some way, the award will be continued."

Cavanaugh Praises
John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Fort Hill's head coach, said that the old Casey team and the affair celebrated last night meant a "great deal" to him. He stated that at his table an aggregate of 90 years of coaching agreed that the K of C has not been conducting a poor program.

Coach's Walter "Bill" Bowers, Allegany's head coach, stated that this past season saw a great many close games and upsets, where sportsmanship had its test. In congratulating the nominees and winner he said that they could be proud of their achievement.

Quintine Barnette, freshman football and basketball coach at West Virginia University who accompanied Rodney "Hot Rod" Hundley to the banquet in the absence of athletic director Robert N. "Red" Brown, then made a few remarks in congratulating the boys.

Hundley scored a hit with the audience immediately, then congratulated Carl Hartman for the great honor he brought to the state of West Virginia.

Rev. Brother David Cassin, director of public relations for LaSalle College, Philadelphia, said that Hundley showed his school in Madison Square Garden that he is a truly solid ballplayer. In regard to the end of the sportsmanship award, Brother Cassin said that the "rumblings that it may be discontinued are disturbing."

HOT ROD CONGRATULATES PHILLIPS—Rod Hundley, right, West Virginia University's sensational basketball player, is shown congratulating Ronnie Phillips, — of Ridgeley High School, after the latter was announced as the winner of the 16th annual Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship Award last night. Looking on are Quentin Barnette, freshman football and basketball coach of West Virginia University, and Rex Pyles, basketball mentor at Alderson-Broadus College, Philippi, W. Va., where Carl Hartman, of Ridgeley, established a national 4-year college scoring record in basketball. Those in the picture, left to right, are Phillips, Barnette, Pyles and Hundley.

HONORED—Carl Hartman, of Ridgeley, who hung up a four-year national college scoring record of 3,473 points at Alderson-Broadus College, was the recipient of five trophies and a purse, valued at over $200 in cash and gift certificates, at the K of C Sportsmanship Award Dinner last night. The gifts were showered on Hartman by his Ridgeley and Cumberland admirers.

dinners. Speaking directly to the eight boys, Pyles told them to "Be leaders of your own soul" and stated that a basic, important belief is "Respect for your own soul."

Emphasizing the importance of self-respect, Pyles compared two ways of life to a thermostat and thermometer. Warning the boys not to be thermometers, acclimating themselves to the environment, he suggested the life of a thermostat, which determines the environment for others and forces others to acclimate themselves.

Clifton Van Roby, athletic director of the central YMCA, then presented four trophies to Hart-Salle College, Philadelphia, said that Hundley showed his school in Madison Square Garden that he is a truly solid ballplayer. In regard to the end of the sportsmanship award, Brother Cassin said that the "rumblings that it may be discontinued are disturbing."

Pyles Deliver Speech
Rex Pyles then delivered what Fin considered the most impressive address he had ever heard in the long history of the K of C

Roberts, Dickson Master Giants In Doubleheader

Dodgers Extend Winning Streak, Top Bucs Twice
NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, behind the effective pitching of right-handed Robin Roberts and Murrey Dickson, swept both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants by 4-2 scores today to climb into second place behind the unbeaten Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies, in dumping the defending champions into a sixth place tie with Cincinnati, captured the first game in the 11th inning when Stan Lopata hammered a two-run homer off southpaw Johnny Antonelli.

Sal Maglie, making his second start in four days, suffered his second defeat in the nightcap. Both Giant runs off Dickson resulted from sacrifice flies. A fourth inning single by Don Mueller and another one-bagger by Monte Irvin in the ninth were the only hits permitted by the 38-year-old Dickson.

Morgan paved the way for the opening victory with a single, his third of the game, in the second overtime inning. After Hammer had grounded into a force play for the second out, Lopata hammered a pitch into the left field stands to give Roberts his second straight triumph.

Roberts, a southpaw, allowed the Pirates only six hits in the first game. Labin gave up only five scattered hits in the eight full innings he worked for Brooklyn in the nightcap.

Roy Campanella paced the Dodger attack in the first game with two doubles and a home run.

Snead Triumphs At Greensboro By One Stroke

Sam Chalks Up 273, Edges Wall, Boros

By KEN ALTYA

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 17 (AP)—Sam Snead birdied the last hole today to edge Art Wall Jr., and Julius Boros by one stroke to win the $12,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 273.

Wall, the leader through each of the first three rounds, fell behind on the front side this afternoon, but came back even with Snead. They came to the last hole needing birdies to beat Boros who had finished a short time earlier.

While the hushed gallery of more than 10,000 held its breath, Wall missed a five-foot putt he needed to match Snead's birdie. The ball just slid by the hole and Snead had won his fifth Greensboro Tournament and the first money of $2,200.

The victory was his first in a major event since the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., veteran won the Palm Beach Round Robin last spring.

Wall, former Duke University star from Pocono Manor, Pa., and Boros, honeymooning 1952 U. S. Open champion from Southern Pines, N. C., each received $1,335. A three-way tie for fourth place at 277 involved Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Ted Kroll, Bethesda, Md.

For his four trips over the 6,600-yard Sedgfield Country Club course Snead was seven under par with rounds of 68-67-69-69.

Chisox Hold Indians Even

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians and Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox tossed a pair of five-hitters today as the two teams split a doubleheader with the Sox taking the opener 3-1 and Cleveland the nightcap 4-2.

Unlike Harshman who had himself in trouble several times because of wildness, Lemon turned the Sox back in fashion with the exception of a leadoff home run by Chico Carrasquel in the fourth and a shaky seventh which netted the Sox one run.

NEW YORK AB H O A
Phillies, behind the effective pitching of right-handed Robin Roberts and Murrey Dickson, swept both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants by 4-2 scores today to climb into second place behind the unbeaten Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies, in dumping the defending champions into a sixth place tie with Cincinnati, captured the first game in the 11th inning when Stan Lopata hammered a two-run homer off southpaw Johnny Antonelli.

Sal Maglie, making his second start in four days, suffered his second defeat in the nightcap. Both Giant runs off Dickson resulted from sacrifice flies. A fourth inning single by Don Mueller and another one-bagger by Monte Irvin in the ninth were the only hits permitted by the 38-year-old Dickson.

Morgan paved the way for the opening victory with a single, his third of the game, in the second overtime inning. After Hammer had grounded into a force play for the second out, Lopata hammered a pitch into the left field stands to give Roberts his second straight triumph.

Larry Jackson, Cards' Rookie, Stops Chicago

Wins Nightcap, 14-1; Cubs Cop First, 6-5

ST. LOUIS, April 17 (AP)—Rookie Larry Jackson broke into the major leagues with a four-hit pitching job today as the St. Louis Cardinals backed his hurling with a 10-run first inning for a 14-1 nightcap victory over the Chicago Cubs after dropping the doubleheader opener in the ninth, 6-5.

The 23-year-old right-hander had a no-hitter going until the seventh inning of the second game when Gene Baker singled and the Cubs got two other hits that frame. Jackson walked only one and struck out three.

In the opener Lloyd Merriman tripled home the tying run in the ninth off reliever Frank Smith and scored the winning marker on Frank Baumholtz's infield hit.

Bi-State Conference Teams Will Play Four Games Today

Boston Takes League Lead

Orioles Walloped Twice, 14-5, 12-9

BOSTON, April 17 (AP)—The fast-starting Boston Red Sox moved into undisputed possession of first place in the American League today, sweeping a marathon doubleheader from winless Baltimore, 14-5 and 12-9, in the rain and cold at Fenway Park.

Boston catcher Sammy White's two-run, tie-breaking double in the eighth inning off reliever Don Johnson was the big blow in the hectic nightcap, which was played under lights from the fourth inning on.

Only about 4,000 of the original 15,345 fans were still on hand for the windup of six hours, 17 minutes of heavy-hitting and at times, very sloppy baseball. Boston's record now is 5-1 with four victories over the Orioles.

Ronnie Phillips Wins 16th K. of C. Sportsmanship Award

Ridgeley High Player Given Wrist Watch

Hartman Presented
Trophies And Cash;
150 Attend Affair

By GEORGE ESKIN

Ronnie Phillips, Ridgeley High School's three-sport star, became the recipient of the 16th annual and possibly the last Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship award for basketball at the annual banquet in the K of C home last night.

The five-foot, 11-inch senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins, 10 Silver Street, Ridgeley, is the third Ridgeley standout to be honored, having been preceded by Bill Brehany in 1948 and Paul Lindsay in 1950.

A real hustler, Phillips tallied 583 points in three years of varsity competition and was selected to the All-Potomac Valley Conference team, the sectional all-tournament team, and served as co-captain of the team this season.

The affair turned out to be one honoring West Virginia athletes and sports figures. For Carl Hartman, former Ridgeley High stand-out who established the national career scoring record with 3,473 points for Alderson-Broadus College, received five trophies and a purse valued at over $200 in cash and gift certificates.

Following the meal, John W. Kreidler, Grand Knight of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, welcomed a gathering of approximately 150 players, coaches, and sports enthusiasts, and inadvertently introduced a topic which was prevalent in many speeches, i. e., the possible abolition of the memorial sportsmanship award.

Kreidler stated that the award not only encourages boys in organized sports to exhibit fine sportsmanship, but it also serves as an aid to combating juvenile delinquency by stimulating greater interest in participation in athletics.

Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland City Solicitor, and toastmaster, stated that this year's award is a tribute to the first two members of the original old Cumberland Caseys basketball team to die, John Stakem and Francis McMullen.

Rex Pyles, head basketball coach at Alderson-Broadus and main speaker for the occasion then presented each of the eight school nominees with miniature gold basketballs engraved with the letter of their respective schools.

These were given to Dorrell Kline and Jon Hann, Fort Hill; Hugh Steele and Jim Sisk, Allegany; Rickey Harris and Phil Getz, LaSalle; and Paul Lockard and Phillips, Ridgeley.

Bob Pence, Cumberland's Recreation Department leader and chairman of the three man selection committee, then stated the qualifications of the award before making the presentation to Phillips.

Based on these qualifications, Pence questioned the recent rulings of the Maryland Public Secondary School Athletic Association which would banish the Sportsmanship Award, and offered to serve with members of the K of C in an attempt to see the proper authorities about possibly preserving the honor.

Earl Nonnenmann of the Sports Shoppe, who donated the beautiful 20-inch trophy to Hartman, presented the prize, engraved to "Carl Hartman, National College Scoring Record—1951-55—3,473 Points."

Jimmy Flanagan, presented the purse to the Alderson-Broadus star.

Finan then introduced the four local basketball coaches, Chester Payne, Ridgeley mentor, expressed the hope that "in some way, the award will be continued."

Cavanaugh Praises
John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Fort Hill's head coach, said that the old Casey team and the affair celebrated last night meant a "great deal" to him. He stated that at his table an aggregate of 90 years of coaching agreed that the K of C has not been conducting a poor program.

Coach Walter "Bill" Bowers, Allegany's head hoop coach, stated that this past season saw a great many close games and upsets, where sportsmanship had its test. In congratulating the nominees and winner he said that they could be proud of their achievement.

Quintine Barnette, freshman football and basketball coach at West Virginia University who accompanied Rodney "Hot Rod" Hundley to the banquet in the absence of athletic director Robert N. "Red" Brown, then made a few remarks in congratulating the boys.

Hundley scored a hit with the audience immediately, then congratulated Carl Hartman for the great honor he brought to the state of West Virginia.

Rev. Brother David Cassin, director of public relations for LaSalle College, Philadelphia, said that Hundley showed his school in Madison Square Garden that he is a truly solid ballplayer. In regard to the end of the sportsmanship award, Brother Cassin said that the "rumblings that it may be discontinued are disturbing."

Pyles Deliver Speech

Rex Pyles then delivered what Finan considered the most impressive address he had ever heard in the long history of the K of C.

HOT ROD CONGRATULATES PHILLIPS—Rod Hundley, right, West Virginia University's sensational basketball player, is shown congratulating Ronnie Phillips, center, of Ridgeley High School, after the latter was announced as the winner of the 16th annual Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship Award last night. Looking on are Quentin Barnette, freshman football and basketball coach of West Virginia University, and Rex Pyles, basketball mentor at Alderson-Broadus College, Philippi, W. Va., where Carl Hartman, of Ridgeley, established a national 4-year college scoring record in basketball. Those in the picture, left to right, are Phillips, Barnette, Pyles and Hundley.

HONORED—Carl Hartman, of Ridgeley, who hung up a four-year national college scoring record of 3,473 points at Alderson-Broadus College, was the recipient of five trophies and a purse valued at over $200 in cash and gift certificates, at the K of C Sportsmanship Award Dinner last night. The gifts were showered on Hartman by his Ridgeley and Cumberland admirers.

dinners. Speaking directly to the eight boys, Pyles told them to "Be leaders of your own soul" and stated that a basic, important belief is "Respect for your own soul."

Emphasizing the importance of self-respect, Pyles compared two ways of life to a thermostat and thermometer. Warning the boys not to be thermometers, acclimating themselves to the environment, he suggested the life of a thermostat, which determines the environment for others and forces others to acclimate themselves.

Clifton Van Roy, athletic director of the central YMCA, then presented four trophies to Hartman, who recently set two scoring records, was named to the all-tournament team, and declared sportsmanship award winner in the YMCA-Junior Chamber of Commerce Basketball Tournament.

Rev. Regis F. Larkin, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Frostburg, delivered both the invocation and benediction. Miss Edna Edie entertained with several piano renditions during the course of the evening.

Snead Triumphs At Greensboro By One Stroke

Sam Chalks Up 273,
Edges Wall, Boros

By KEN ALTYA

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 17 (AP)—Sam Snead birdied the last hole today to edge Art Wall Jr., and Julius Boros by one stroke to win the $12,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 273.

Wall, the leader through each of the first three rounds, fell behind on the front side this afternoon, but came back even with Snead. They came to the last hole needing birdies to beat Boros who had finished a short time earlier.

While the hushed gallery of more than 10,000 held its breath, Wall missed a five-foot putt he needed to match Snead's birdie. The ball just slid by the hole and Snead had won his fifth Greensboro Tournament and the first money of $2,200.

The victory was his first in a major event since the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., veteran won the Palm Beach Round Robin last spring.

Wall, former Duke University star from Pocono Manor, Pa., and Boros, honeymooning 1952 U. S. Open champion from Southern Pines, N. C., each received $1,335.

A three-way tie for fourth place at 277 included Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex.; and Ted Kroll, Bethesda, Md.

For his four trips over the 6,600-yard Seaford Country Club course Snead was seven under par with rounds of 68-67-69-69.

Chisox Hold Indians Even

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians and Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox tossed a pair of five-hitters today as the two teams split a doubleheader with the Sox taking the opener 3-1 and Cleveland the nightcap 4-2.

Unlike Harshman who had himself in trouble several times because of wildness, Lemon turned the Sox back in fashion with the exception of a leadoff home run by Chico Carrasquel in the fourth and a shaky seventh which netted the Sox one run.

First Game
Cleveland 3, Chicago 1.
Lemon, 9 innings, 3 hits, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Harshman, 9 innings, 5 hits, 3 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Carrasquel, 4th inning, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Lemon, 9th inning, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Second Game

Lemon, 9 innings, 4 hits, 2 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Harshman, 9 innings, 5 hits, 3 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Phil's Chalk Up 4-2 Wins In Both Games
NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, behind the effective pitching of righthanders Robin Roberts and Murry Dickson, swept both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants by 4-2 scores today to climb into second place behind the unbeaten Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies, in dumping the defending champions into a sixth place tie with Cincinnati, captured the first game in the 11th inning when Stan Lopata hammered a two-run homer off southpaw Johnny Antonelli.

Sal Maglie, making his second start in four days, suffered his second defeat in the nightcap. Both Giant runs off Dickson resulted from sacrifice flies. A fourth inning single by Don Mueller and another one-bagger by Monte Irvin in the ninth were the only hits permitted by the 38-year-old Dickson.

Morgan paved the way for the opening victory with a single, his third of the game, in the second overtime inning. After Hammer grounded into a force play for the second out, Lopata hammered a pitch into the left field stands to give Roberts his second straight triumph.

First Game
Philadelphia 4, New York 2.
Roberts, 9 innings, 4 hits, 2 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Murry Dickson, 9 innings, 5 hits, 3 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Chisox Hold Indians Even
CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians and Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox tossed a pair of five-hitters today as the two teams split a doubleheader with the Sox taking the opener 3-1 and Cleveland the nightcap 4-2.

Larry Jackson, Cards' Rookie, Stops Chicago

Wins Nightcap, 14-1;
Cubs Cop First, 6-5

ST. LOUIS, April 17 (AP)—Rookie Larry Jackson broke into the major leagues with a four-hit pitching job today as the St. Louis Cardinals backed his hurling with a 10-run first inning for a 14-1 nightcap victory over the Chicago Cubs after dropping the doubleheader opener in the ninth, 6-5.

The 23-year-old righthander had a no-hitter going until the seventh inning of the second game when Gene Baker singled and the Cubs got two other hits that frame. Jackson walked only one and struck out three.

In the opener Lloyd Merriman tripled home the tying run in the ninth off reliever Frank Smith and scored the winning marker on Frank Baumholtz's infield hit.

First Game
St. Louis 14, Chicago 1.
Jackson, 9 innings, 4 hits, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Merriman, 9 innings, 5 hits, 5 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Bi-State Conference Teams Will Play Four Games Today

Boston Takes League Lead

Orioles Walloped
Twice, 14-5, 12-9

BOSTON, April 17 (AP)—The fast-starting Boston Red Sox moved into undisputed possession of first place in the American League today, sweeping a marathon doubleheader from winless Baltimore, 14-5 and 12-9, in the rain and cold at Fenway Park.

Boston catcher Sammy White's two-run, tie-breaking double in the eighth inning off reliever Don Johnson was the big blow in the hectic nightcap, which was played under lights from the fourth inning on.

Only about 4,000 of the original 15,345 fans were still on hand for the windup of six hours, 17 minutes of heavy-hitting and at times, very sloppy baseball. Boston's record now is 5-1 with four victories over the Orioles.

First Game
Boston 14, Baltimore 5.
White, 9 innings, 4 hits, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Johnson, 9 innings, 5 hits, 5 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Second Game
Boston 12, Baltimore 9.
White, 9 innings, 4 hits, 1 run, 1 error, 1 strikeout.
Johnson, 9 innings, 5 hits, 5 runs, 1 error, 1 strikeout.

Frostburg Wins, 8-3
Frostburg State Teachers College crashed the win column for the first time this season by downing the Penn State Fresh at State College, Pa., Saturday by the score of 8-3.

Coach Kenneth Babcock's Bobcats, trailing 3-0, scored their eighth runs in the seventh and eighth frames to win and break a three-game losing streak. Jerry Loibel, who relieved Emerick in the third inning, got credit for the win. Hammerosky was the loser.

The Bobcats racked up 11 hits, Bob Kirk pacing the assault with four blows while Tom Kelly rapped a double and single and Loibel had two singles.

Score by innings:

Red Cross Life Saving Classes Draw Record 70 Enrollees

Course Opens At YMCA Today At 5:30

Enrollment Double Previous 12 Years; Kelley To Instruct

When the American Red Cross Life Saving classes get under way today at 5:30 o'clock at the Central YMCA pool the enrollment will be the largest since the courses were inaugurated in 1943.

Seventy have enrolled for the two weeks' course and that's double the number that attended any of the classes conducted here during the past twelve years.

James E. Kelley, Jr., Red Cross Water Safety Chairman for Allegany County, will be instructor for the 13th consecutive year.

Twenty-eight boys and five girls will take the tests for certificates in the class for those 12 to 15 years. Enrollment for this year's senior class, ages 16 and over, are 24 males and 13 females. The previous high was 31 boys and girls in 1946.

The course will be held Monday through Friday from 5:30 to 7 p. m., over a two weeks' period. This instruction is a "must" for those who will be seeking jobs at various camps during the summer months since applicants for positions as life guards must be the holders of Red Cross certificates.

The course covers water safety in general and includes instruction on how to rescue drowning persons, the proper ways of carrying them, manner of approaching victims, different types of releases, artificial respiration and a complete review of water safety measures.

Since Kelley took over as instructor in 1943, a total of 302 total senior life saving courses and 228 passed the tests and earned certificates. In addition, 115 junior boys and girls took the Junior Life Saving Course and 78 received certificates.

These tests are open to residents of the tri-state area, including Maryland and nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia Boxer Dies Of Injuries In His First Pro Bout

TRENTON, N.J., April 17 (AP)—Bryan Thompson, 23-year-old Philadelphia middleweight boxer, died early today in St. Francis hospital as a result of injuries suffered in his first professional fight.

On March 29, Thompson was knocked out in the second round of a bout at the Trenton Arena and carried from the ring on a stretcher. He had been in a coma almost continuously since and underwent two brain operations. His opponent was Jerry Luedde of New Haven, Conn.

BY FRANK KUCHIRCHUK

THE CURIOUS kept circling the extremely low, sleek-lined sport car. Its bright red coloring dazzled their eyes as they enviously watched the owner climb in, close the door and begin wrapping around his jaw.

Then, like the suddenness of an exploding hydrogen bomb, the "pretty little car" exploded the quiet around it as the driver started the engine.

Reving it up several times, the car began to move, as its rear tires left their squealing marks on the pavement. Before anyone knew what had happened, the car had disappeared. Only the noise from its screaming engine could be heard, as even that ended quickly.

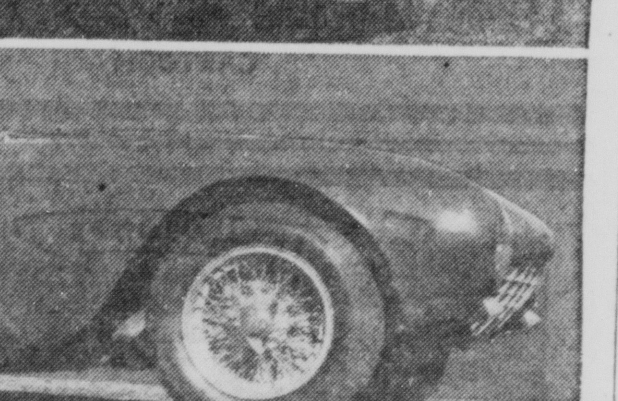

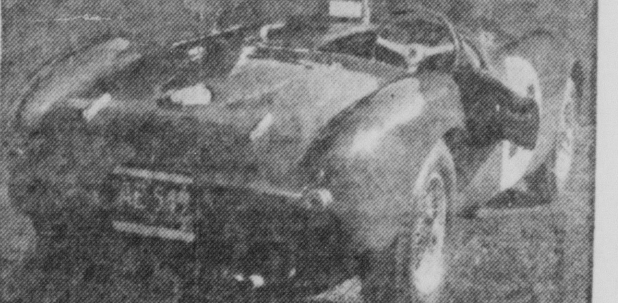

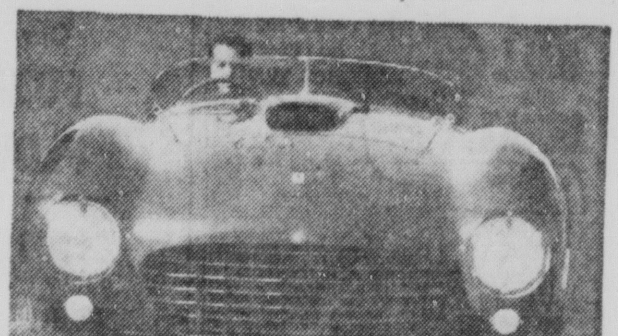

THIS CAR is the 4.5 Ferrari Millemiglia, and is regarded as the hottest small racing car in the world.

Its owner, A. Erwin Goldschmidt of New York City, says the 12-cylinder, 347 H. P. engine can push the 2,100-pound racer to a top speed of 194 M.P.H. It goes 0-60 in 5.6 seconds and 0-100 in 11 seconds flat.

Built for racing, it has two magnetos, two two-pipe exhausts and three Weber four-throat carburetors. The car is hand-made, which accounts for the high price, $18,000 F.O.B. Milan, Italy.

The Pinin Farina body was hammered by hand from one piece of aluminum. It has unbelievable road-holding qualities and its engine rarely gives trouble. The unusual slant of its nose was built that way to prevent the car from being airborne at high speeds.

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski singled with two out in the ninth inning to give his Cincinnati Redlegs their first victory of the 1953 National League season, a 6-5 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves in the second game of a doubleheader today.

The Braves plastered the Reds with their fifth straight setback, a 10-1 affair, in the first game.

In the second game, the Redlegs scored their first five runs on three home runs, three straight walks and a single in the fourth inning.

Big Klu started the home run parade, hitting his third of the season over the right field screen. After Ray Jablonski popped out, Ed Bailey and Wally Post also went for the circuit.

Bill Bruton and Johnny Logan started battering the Red pitching in the first inning of the first game and continued throughout the contest. Bruton socked out a homer, a double and two singles while Logan contributed a three-run homer and a single, which was his seventh straight hit off Redleg pitching.

Santee Will Run In Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 17 (AP)—Wes Santee is expected to make an all-out bid to run a 4-minute mile here next Saturday.

The setting will be the Glenn Cunningham Mile event of the 30th annual Kansas Relays.

Santee's closest approach to the 4-minute mark was 4:00.5 in the Texas Relays at Austin earlier in the spring. Just what caliber of competition he will have in the Cunningham Mile remains to be seen.

AI Gets Two In 6th, Equals Major Record

[By Joe Falls]

DETROIT, April 17 (AP)—Young Al Kaline hammered three home runs, two of them in the sixth inning, to tie a major league record—and lead the Detroit Tigers to a 16-0 romp over the hapless Kansas City A's today.

The 20-year-old outfielder, who hit only four home runs last season, also collected a bloop single to knock in six runs.

The four hits boosted Kaline's early season batting average to .560. He has 14 hits in 25 times at bat.

Kaline connected twice as the Tigers scored nine times in the sixth inning. He drove an inning-opening homer off Bob Spicer and then closed out the rally with a two-run blast off Bob Tice. Both drives sailed into the left field seats.

Kaline was the 13th major league player to hit two home runs in one inning.

Steve Gromek, veteran 34-year-old right-hander, went all the way for the second time this season in beating the A's. He gave up seven hits to post his third shutout.

Red Cross Life Saving Classes Draw Record 70 Enrollees

Course Opens At YMCA Pool Today At 5:30

Enrollment Double Previous 12 Years; Kelley To Instruct

When the American Red Cross Life Saving classes get under way today at 5:30 o'clock at the Central YMCA pool the enrollment will be the largest since the courses were inaugurated in 1943.

Seventy have enrolled for the two weeks' course and that's double the number that attended any of the classes conducted here during the past twelve years.

James E. Kelley, Jr., Red Cross Water Safety Chairman for Allegany County, will be instructor for the 13th consecutive year.

Twenty-eight boys and five girls will take the tests for certificates in the Class for those 12 to 15 years. Enrollment for this year's senior Class, ages 16 and over, are 24 males and 13 females. The previous high was 31 boys and girls in 1946.

The course will be held Monday through Friday from 5:30 to 7 p. m., over a two weeks' period. This instruction is a "must" for those who will be seeking jobs at various camps during the summer months since applicants for positions as life guards must be the holders of Red Cross certificates.

The course covers water safety in general and includes instruction on how to rescue drowning persons, the proper ways of carrying them, manner of approaching victims, different types of releases, artificial respiration and a complete review of water safety measures.

Since Kelley took over as instructor in 1943, a total of 302 took senior life saving courses and 228 passed the tests and earned certificates. In addition, 115 junior boys and girls took the Junior Life Saving Course and 78 received certificates.

These tests are open to residents of the tri-state area, including Maryland and nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

C.A. Gas Drops Pair, Holds Five-Game Lead; Curt Felten Hits 641

The C.A. Gas Company dropped a pair to Schute's Roofers last week on the Savoy alleys but it retained its five-game lead in the Cities Service Bowling League.

The Baltimore Pike Fire Company won two games from Queen City Dairy and McIntyre's scored a 2-1 decision over Super Concrete.

Curt Felten's 209-236-641 was the evening's high score. Other high scores were posted by "Bud" Porter, C.A. Gas, 204-257; Tom McGeady, Schute's, 194-319; Jim O'Brien, Queen City Dairy, 206-464; J. Brinkman, Baltimore Pike, 492; Jim Eckard, Schute's, 194-539; Gene Grapes, Super Concrete, 181-452, and "Ike" Law, McIntyre's, 591.

The league concludes its regular schedule this week and then the four top teams will play in the Shaughnessy playoffs. Standings:

Philadelphia Boxer Dies Of Injuries In His First Pro Bout

TRENTON, N.J., April 17 (AP)—Bryan Thompson, 23-year-old Philadelphia middleweight boxer, died early today in St. Francis hospital as a result of injuries suffered in his first professional fight.

On March 29, Thompson was knocked out in the second round of a bout at the Trenton Arena and carried from the ring on a stretcher. He had been in a coma almost continuously since and underwent two brain operations. His opponent was Jerry Luedde of New Haven, Conn.

THE CURIOUS kept circling the extremely low, sleek-lined sport car. Its bright red coloring dazzled their eyes as they enviously watched the owner climb in, close the door and begin wrapping the safety belt around his lower body. He put on his crash helmet, then snapped it tightly under and around his jaw.

Then, like the suddenness of an exploding hydrogen bomb, the "pretty little car" exploded the quiet around it as the driver started the engine.

Revolving it up several times, the car began to move, as its rear tires left their squealing marks on the pavement. Before anyone knew what had happened, the car had disappeared. Only the noise from its screaming engine could be heard, as even that ended quickly.

THIS CAR is the 4.5 Ferrari Millemiglia, and is regarded as the hottest small racing car in the world.

Its owner, A. Erwin Goldschmidt of New York City, says the 12-cylinder, 347 H. P. engine can push the 2,100-pound racer to a top speed of 194 M.P.H. It goes 0-60 in 5.6 seconds and 0-100 in 11 seconds flat.

Built for racing, it has two magnetos, two two-pipe exhausts and three Weber four-throat carburetors. The car is hand-made, which accounts for the high price, $18,000 F.O.B., Milan, Italy.

The Pinin Farina body was hammered by hand from one piece of aluminum. It has unbelievable road-holding qualities and its engine rarely gives trouble. The unusual slant of its nose was built that way to prevent the car from being airborne at high speeds.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 17—(INS)—A few memories of a memory-laden trip from New York to New York, via Dublin, Cairo, Luxor, Madrid and the Azores:

There was a side-trip, returning from Luxor to Cairo. The big TWA Super-Connie G drummed smoothly out over the Red Sea, which has turquoise patches as clear as the waters of Bermuda—and manta rays with wingspreads up to 30 feet.

Off to the right in the haze of evening hung Mt. Sinai, and as we silently invoked all that it stood for one reporter remarked:

"Just think of all the fun we could have if Moses hadn't brought those tablets down from that mountain."

The innocent blasphemy had hardly been uttered when we hit an airport that spilled the rascal's drink all over George Dixon, an innocent bystander and firm believer in the Ten Commandments.

"Quick retribution on record," the blasphemer agreed.

If anybody has been wondering whatever became of bygone generations of Hollywood and TV gag-writers, they must be working now for the camel caretakers and dragomen attached to the Mena House, in the shadows of the Great Pyramids.

Taking a group of us to the Sphinx aboard their understandably morose beasts the other day the nightgowned boys kept up a happy monologue which, roughly, went:

"Oh you keed . . . that's colosal . . . you're keeling me . . . terrif, absolutely terrif . . . you're hep, keed!" One joker kept delivering a one-word punchline which I'm sure some slicker sold him in a whisper, on the dark side of Khufu's place. He kept repeating: "Brooklyn!"

"That's all. Just 'Brooklyn.' That doesn't even bring a laugh on the canned laughter shows any more. But nobody's told our boy."

In contrast to the fantastic excesses of King Farouk, Gamal Nasser ostensibly lives like a man who has taken an oath of poverty.

His salary is $500 a month, $6,000 a year. He has no expense account. The rare social functions he must give, usually to welcome a new diplomat or distinguished visitor, are paid for by the government department inherently concerned with the guest.

The youthful prime minister still lives in the former British army barracks apartment assigned to him several years ago when he reached the rank of major. He has five children. His wife is seldom seen in public. He does not believe women are interested enough in the reigning issues of the day to deserve suffrage, though he was telling us that Egypt's millions of illiterate men take quite a lively interest in such matters. He sees one movie a month, has no time for sports or play.

Spain, bustling with new building, has a top income tax of 14 per cent. It is applied when a person's income reaches the equivalent of $100,000 and doesn't increase beyond that.

There is no tax up to $3,000 a year. One would need to make $100,000 only one year in his life and live thereafter off the income, a prominent Spanish businessman assured the sad-eyed refugees from the U. S.

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.). When a person grows stouter, his skin grows as fast as the fat is added. This can be noted from the folds of loose skin on a person who was once stout, but who has grown thin.

Arm exercises are easy, and they should be part of your program long before the mirror warns that they're badly needed. But if the warning has come, don't waste a day before starting the following exercises. They're planned for spot reducing the arms, and they do wonders also to firm the arms and keep them round and graceful.

1. Lie flat on your back, extend your arms over your head and clasp your hands together. Turning from the waistline, roll over onto the right arm, roll back to the first position, roll over onto the left arm and back again. Repeat ten times.

2. Lie on your back again. Bend arms so elbows are perpendicular to the floor and rest your fingers on your shoulders. Quickly slap the backs of both upper arms against the floor. Raise your arms again and repeat the slapping movement. Ten to twenty times are not too many, but careful there—don't hit the floor hard enough to cause bruising.

3. Again, lie flat on your back. Reach for the ceiling—reach as high as you can. Then, without bending the elbows or wrists, criss-cross your arms with short, fast strokes, twenty times.

4. This time, stand tall with two medium-sized books in your hands. Rest the books on your shoulders. Stretch your arms forward at shoulder level, then return to starting position. Stretch arms downward at your sides. Return to starting position. Stretch your arms high overhead and again return to starting position. Repeat ten times, stretching as hard as you can. This exercise is especially effective for reducing cushiony elbows.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator, that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 17—(INS)—A few memories of a memory-laden trip from New York to New York, via Dublin, Cairo, Luxor, Madrid and the Azores:

There was a side-trip, returning from Luxor to Cairo. The big TWA Super-Connie G drummed smoothly out over the Red Sea, which has turquoise patches as clear as the waters of Bermuda—and manta rays with wingspreads up to 30 feet.

Off to the right in the haze of evening hung Mt. Sinai, and as we silently invoked all that it stood for one reporter remarked:

"Just think of all the fun we could have if Moses hadn't brought those tablets down from that mountain."

The innocent blasphemy had hardly been uttered when we hit an airport that spilled the rascal's drink all over George Dixon, an innocent bystander and firm believer in the Ten Commandments.

"Quickest retribution on record," the blasphemer agreed.

If anybody has been wondering whatever became of hygone generations of Hollywood and TV gag-writers, they must be working now for the camel caretakers and dragomen attached to the Mena House, in the shadows of the Great Pyramids.

Taking a group of us to the Sphinx aboard their understandably morose beasts the other day the nightgowned boys kept up a happy monologue which, roughly, went:

"Oh you keed . . . that's eolossal . . . you're keeling me . . . terrif, absolutely terrif . . . you're hep, keed!" One joker kept delivering a one-word punchline which I'm sure some slicker sold him in a whisper, on the dark side of Khufu's place. He kept repeating: "Brooklyn!"

"That's all. Just 'Brooklyn.' That doesn't even bring a laugh on the canned laughter shows any more. But nobody's told our boy.

In contrast to the fantastic excesses of King Farouk, Gamal Nasser ostensibly lives like a man who has taken an oath of poverty.

His salary is $500 a month, $6,000 a year. He has no expense account. The rare social functions he must give, usually to welcome a new diplomat or distinguished visitor, are paid for by the government department inherently concerned with the guest.

The youthful prime minister still lives in the former British army barracks apartment assigned to him several years ago when he reached the rank of major. He has five children. His wife is seldom seen in public. He does not believe women are interested enough in the reigning issues of the day to deserve suffrage, though he was telling us that Egypt's millions of illiterate men take quite a lively interest in such matters. He sees one movie a month, has no time for sports or play.

Spain, bustling with new building, has a top income tax of 14 per cent. It is applied when a person's income reaches the equivalent of $100,000 and doesn't increase beyond that.

There is no tax up to $3,000 a year. One would need to make $100,000 only one year in his life and live thereafter off the income, a prominent Spanish businessman assured the sad-eyed refugees from the U. S.

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.). When a person grows stouter, his skin grows as fast as the fat is added. This can be noted from the folds of loose skin on a person who was once stout, but who has grown thin.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A DOUBTFUL CLAIM

MOST experts pride themselves on the ability to ferret out hard-to-reach slam contracts and—just as important—to stop short of bad or dubious slams, but whether this self-estimate is fully justified is another question. Take the following hand for example. It was certainly strange that only one of the North-South pairs in a team contest reached the slam.

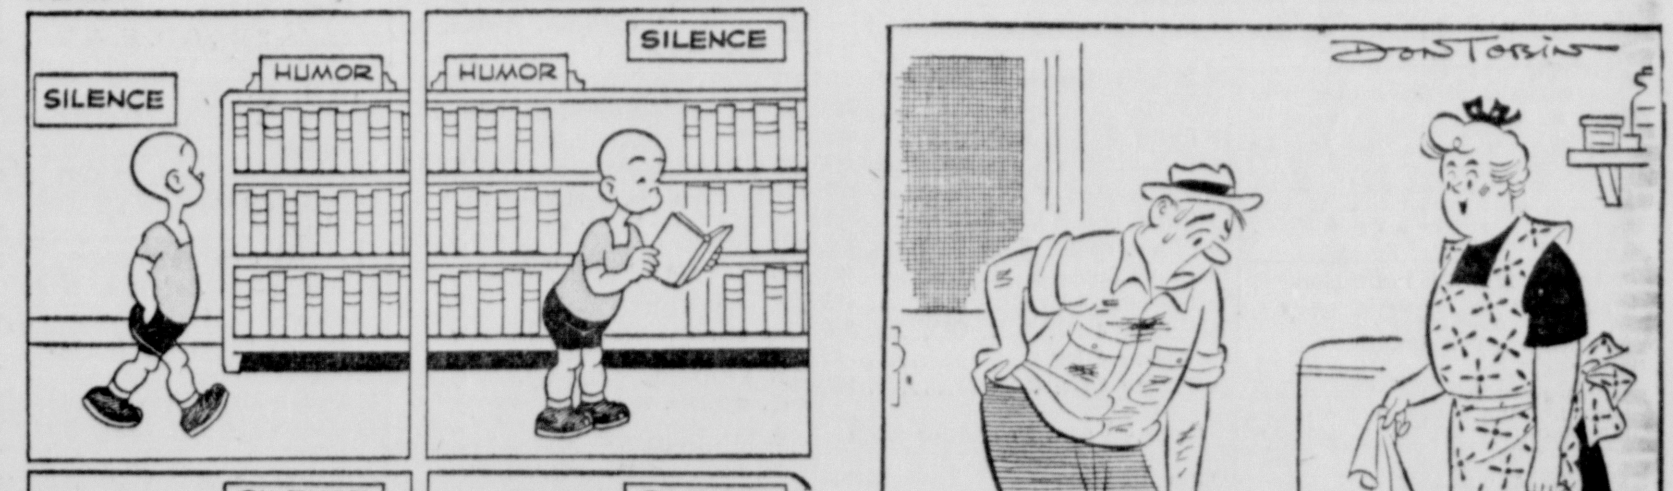

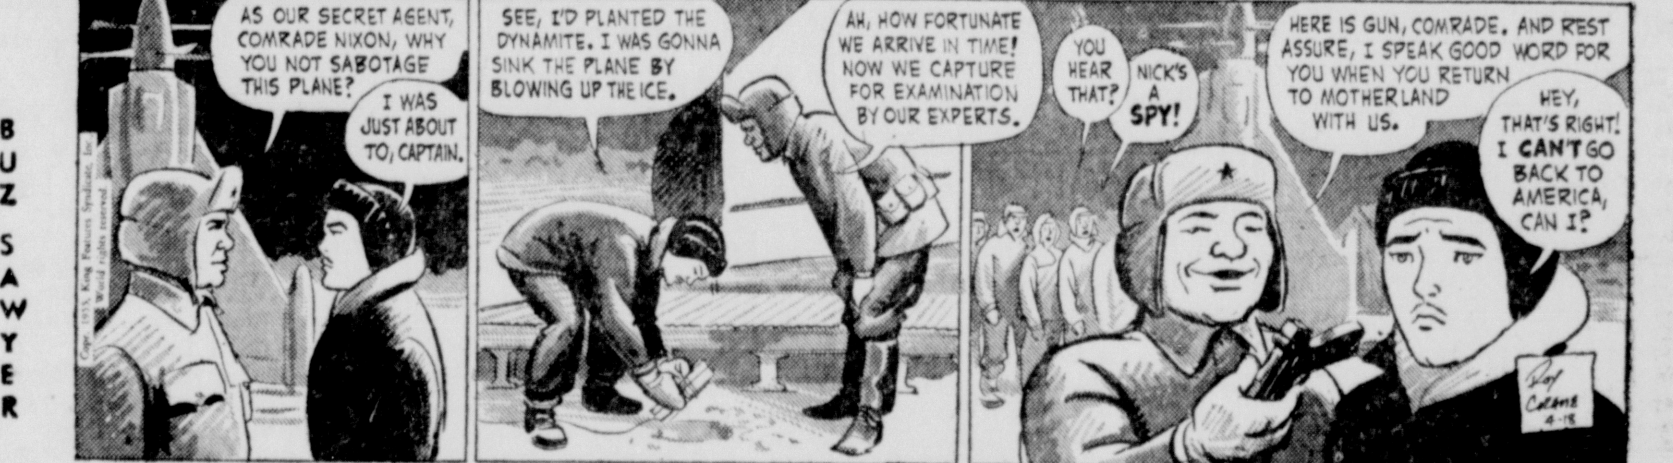

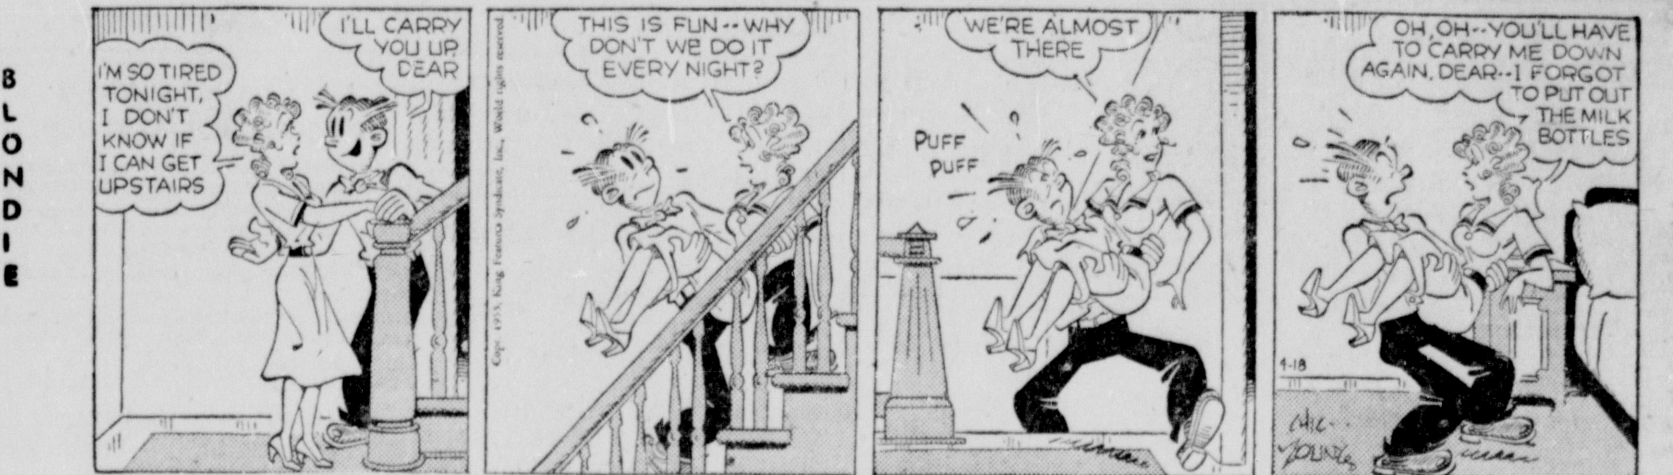

South dealer.	North-South vulnerable.
♠ A 8 5 4	♥ A Q J 8 7 4 3
♦ K 9 5 4	♣ K 8 5 4
♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♥ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

At one table North-South reached six clubs with comparative ease, as follows:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	6 ♠	Pass

(Final bid)

Judge Soper Announces Retirement

82-Year-Old Jurist Asks President For Release On June 2

RICHMOND, April 17 (AP)—Judge Morris A. Soper of Baltimore has announced he is retiring as an active member of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, effective June 2.

The 82-year-old jurist submitted his retirement plans in a letter dated April 15 to President Eisenhower, who will appoint his successor. In it, Judge Soper wrote he will leave the bench 60 years to the day after he became a member of the bar.

Judge Soper is one of three members of the appellate court, which has its headquarters here. The other two are Chief Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N.C., and Judge Armstrong M. Dobbie of Charlottesville, Va.

In importance, a U.S. circuit court of appeals ranks second to the U.S. Supreme Court. It handles all appeals from federal district courts, tax courts, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Trade Commission and the Security Exchange Commission, as well as other governmental agencies.

Judge Soper, who has been a state or federal judge the past 40 years, has served on the circuit court bench since May 9, 1931. He was appointed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Although he is retiring from active duty because of his age, Judge Soper will be available for future assignments, he advised President Eisenhower. The U.S. code provides that retiring judges will continue to hold office after their retirement.

In addition, he will receive his annual $25,500 salary the rest of his life. His pay was boosted this year by Congress from the former $17,500.

Born in Baltimore and educated at Baltimore City College and Johns Hopkins University, he received his law degree from the University of Maryland and served both as an assistant state's attorney in Baltimore and as an assistant federal district attorney.

In 1914 he was elected chief judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore, a post he held until 1921. Two years later he was appointed as the federal judge at Baltimore.

Before being appointed a federal circuit court judge, he was mentioned frequently as a candidate of his party for governor of Maryland. Several times Republican delegations called on him in an effort to persuade him to make the race, but he always declined, insisting he preferred his judicial duties to become involved in a political campaign.

The 4th circuit court meets in Richmond, Asheville, N.C., Charlotte and Baltimore. The circuit includes the states of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland.

Murray Youth Fifth Victim Of Turnpike

Funeral Set Today At Hyndman, Pa.

Funeral services for 15-year-old Lee Murray who died Friday night in Frick Memorial Hospital, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., will be held at the Zeigler Funeral Home, Hyndman, today at 2 p. m.

Young Murray was the fifth person to die as the result of accidents in this area on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in the past six days. He was injured last Monday in an auto wreck, succumbing from a broken back, fractured left leg and facial lacerations. His parents, James and Viola Mae (Lepley) Murray, of Geneva, Ohio, are former residents of Wellersburg.

Rev. Charles Raley, pastor of Hyndman Evangelical United Brethren Church, will officiate and burial will be in Cook Cemetery, Wellersburg.

Palbearers will be Robert Johnson, Samuel Lepley, Donald Miller, Jimmy Miller, Junior Dorsey and Gene Rexroad.

Mrs. Murray, Lee and two other sons were enroute from Cumberland to Geneva when the tragedy occurred near Donegal, according to Pennsylvania State Police. The Murray family group had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lepley, also of Geneva, to Cumberland while they visited their parents.

Lepley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reister Lepley, Homewood Addition, while his wife is the former Miss Dolores Jean Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Norris, 47 Thomas Street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lepley were injured in the two-car crash which claimed the life of Mrs. Sally Herman, 62, wife of Adam Herman, Manheim, Pa.

Young Murray was a member of the Church of the Nazarene. Survivors include his brothers, John and James Murray.

Killed Friday near Laurel Hill on the Turnpike was Daniel L. Chaussinand, 22, of RD 2, Elizabeth. He was a passenger in a car operated by Duane Lee Hunn. (Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

Today's Sermonette

Because I live, ye shall live also. John 14:19.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at LaVale Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Frith. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Why I Believe In The Life Hereafter

By REV. C. F. FRITH

The Christian needs no proof of life beyond, but for the skeptic or agnostic the following reasons are sufficient, it seems to me, to convince him.

First, Jesus plainly tells his disciples before His death that He would rise from the grave. And so He did, according to all available facts. In the words of the text Jesus assured His disciples that they, like Him, would live: "Because I live, ye shall live also." To question Jesus' authority on this matter would give us reason to question His authority on any other matter. To set aside His teaching on immortality would take out of it one of the very fundamental truths of the entire Bible and the real purpose for which it was written.

Secondly, Jesus proved the immortality of the soul when He raised Lazarus from the grave. If Jesus could bring Lazarus from death surely God can raise you and me from death. These two reasons alone should satisfy our belief in immortality.

However, one could enumerate other strong arguments: For example, when Jesus was transfigured before Peter, James, and John, they each saw in person

Local Post Office Surveys May Solve Space Problem

Increased volume of business at the local Post Office, along with an anticipated even greater volume, has led to official surveys of a local space problem.

While no postal official could throw full light on the situation, it has been evident here for several days that some study is being made of the volume and space problem for mail service.

During the last Christmas season, the volume of all kinds of mail handled here set an all-time record. Mail was so heavy that storage quarters and other space in the basement of the Post Office building was utilized and some outside space was pressed into temporary service.

The Easter holiday also saw an increase in volume of mail. Since Christmas regular volume also has held at a steady high level. While officials indicate that no positive plans have been developed or announced, they acknowledge that consideration is being given to several possibilities.

These include renovation of the present Post Office building, an addition to the structure or possible establishment of a parcel post terminal in a building adjacent to the Post Office. Loading and unloading space, as well as parking space for carriers and other employees, is also being considered in whatever medium of solution might be evolved.

In recent weeks, study also has been made of several rural mail routes which are carried from the local Post Office, as well as from offices in smaller communities in the county.

An increase in suburban population in the county and a decrease in population in some incorporated towns, resulting in a shifting population, call for some possible changes and remedies in the interest of economy and service.

LaVale is being studied, and reports, as yet unconfirmed by postal officials, persist that a sub-station may be built there.

State Cleanup Starts Friday

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin has proclaimed April 22-29 as County Cleanup Week in Maryland and Keep Maryland Beautiful leaders are hopeful that each of the 23 counties and many municipalities will participate in the combined effort.

Twelve counties have mapped out a program of cleanup activities and are naming special committees to be responsible for various phases of the drive designed to make the public aware of the need for eliminating unsightly debris from streets, highways and public parks and recreation areas.

Counties reporting the greatest Cleanup Week progress so far are Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Caroline, Frederick, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, St. Mary's, Talbot and Wicomico.

Pfc. James L. Knepp, husband of Mrs. Thelma Jean Knepp, 181 Ormond Street, Frostburg, is now stationed in Pusan, Korea, where he is working in the Headquarters of the Korean Communications Zone.

The zone, commanded by Major General E. J. McGaw, provides logistical support to the Eighth United States Army and other United Nations forces in Korea, plus partial support of the Republic of Korea armed forces.

Eight County Youth Delegates Receive Honors

Have Measures Passed At Model Legislature

Eight members of the Allegany County delegation to the Maryland Model Legislature were received into the Legislators Club at the 1955 session which closed at Annapolis Saturday.

All were honored with cards in the organization for having bills introduced by them passed by the Youth Senate and House, and signed by Boy Governor Matt Tammamuri of Baltimore.

Their measures were among the bills passed by the Model Legislature before Saturday's adjournment.

Get Recognition

Receiving recognition were Joel Downey, Barbara Montana, Betsy Bampton and Robert Holmes of Beall High School of Frostburg; Richard Johnson and Childre Bridges of Allegany High School; and Fred Sharer and Stanley Wilson of Fort Hill High School.

Gov. Tammamuri vetoed five of 19 measures passed by the House and Senate, the most controversial which would have allowed school pupils and teachers to smoke in certain designated areas on public school grounds.

In his final message to the Legislature, the young Estonian boy who became a U. S. citizen only last week advised his colleagues that "a politician worries about the next election; a statesman worries about the next generation."

During the final flurry, the young lawmakers passed a resolution expressing thanks and expressing gratitude "to Dr. Jonas E. Salk and his associates for the outstanding work performed in the development of a vaccine to prevent the paralytic effects of infantile paralysis."

Others Praised

Also praised at the final session of the Legislature were Richard Johnson, 647 Sedgwick Street, who was Speaker of the House, and Rodney Breedlove, of Cresaptown, Clerk of the House. Both were members of the Allegany County delegation.

Floyd C. Faulkner of the Baltimore Poly teaching staff, who along with Philip J. Valle, a teacher at Baltimore Southern, received the 1955 Youth and Government Awards, said of Breedlove and Johnson that "they are among the most outstanding legislators the program has had for 12 years."

Michael McLuckie of Beall High was assistant Clerk of the House; Eugene Kidwell, also of Beall, was Sergeant at Arms; Stanley Wilson was Commissioner of Recreation and a member of the governor's cabinet; Barbara Montana was delegation chairman.

Other members of the local delegation sponsored by the Cumberland Central YMCA were Ronald Shanholtzer, William C. Schultheis, Joann Tomlinson, William E. Preston, Marie Goebel, Sandra Loe, Kay Jeffries, Sherrill Petty, Eleanor Murphy, Ellen Beneman, Janice Lee Bradley, Anna Grace Baer, Marjorie Lewis, Wilma Schry, Neal Smith, Ralph Isminger, Ronald Gillum, Robert H. Jones, Richard Douglass, Fern Kenney, Ronald Rice, Sue Jones, Ronald E. Lease, Bernard Gross, and Carole Runion. Lawrence R. Dehn, program secretary of the YMCA, was delegation advisor.

The Weather

The weather yesterday certainly was varied. There was a little rain, wind and cool temperatures. The forecast for today calls for some cloudiness but generally fair. The official high yesterday was 65 degrees with a low reading of 50 degrees. At 7:30 p. m. the mercury stood at 51 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 82 per cent and the amount of precipitation was .06 inches.

Wesleyan Choir Sings Here Sunday

Musicians Plan Three-Day Tour

The West Virginia Wesleyan College a capella choir will visit Cumberland next Sunday in the course of a tour being made through eastern West Virginia and Western Maryland.

The choir will appear at the Centre Street Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. in the sanctuary. The group of 36 singers is under the direction of Robert E. Shafer, associate professor of music at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

In the course of this three-day tour, appearances are scheduled for six high schools and four churches, involving three or four programs daily.

The program for churches will include a number of outstanding sacred compositions, while a number of selections by the choir, an octet, and some novelty numbers will comprise the high school program.

Miss Shirley Brinkman, city, a sophomore at the college, is a member of the choir.

The group will appear at the following places on their tour:

April 24, Oakland, St. Paul's Methodist Church, 10:45 a. m.; Piedmont, Trinity Methodist Church, 4 p. m.; Centre Street Methodist Church here at 7:30 p. m.

April 25, Ridgeley High School, 9 a. m.; Keyser High School, 1:50 p. m.; First Methodist Church, Keyser, 7:30 p. m.

St. George's Will Elect New Vestry

The congregation of St. George's Episcopal Church will elect a new Vestry at its annual parish meeting in the Parish Hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector, will give his annual address on the state of the parish. Heads of the various organizations also will submit their reports.

Present members of the Vestry are Raymond L. Himmelwright, C. Raymond Yutz, Raymond Neder, George Kootz, Colin C. Bowers and John L. Poland. There are two vacancies because of the resignations of Robert N. Barth and Thomas E. Andrews.

Although it has been traditional for Episcopal churches in Maryland to conduct their annual meetings on Easter Monday, an act of the General Assembly of 1949 gave Episcopal parishes the right to change the date of the annual meetings when it was considered expedient.

Two Celanese Workers Honored

Elmer F. Dick, Cresaptown, and Kenneth A. Lowery, 128 Mt. Pleasant Street, Frostburg, were presented gold watches at the Amelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America on the 25th anniversary of their employment.

R. Finley Thompson, plant manager, made the presentation to Dick while Walter N. Hedrick, assistant plant manager, awarded Lowery his watch.

Dick is a member of the plant protection force, is married and the father of a daughter and two sons. His interests include wildlife and guns.

Lowery is a blender operator in the preparation section of Spinning. Married, he is the father of two girls and two boys. His favorite pastime is fishing.

Robert W. Brown, manager of personnel, joined in honoring Dick by awarding him a gold five-star Celanese emblem and certificate. John Bestwick, superintendent of Spinning, made a similar award to Lowery.

Local Guardsmen Await Surprise Training Alert

Commander Cautions Against Any Alarm

Anytime after 5 p. m. today, "Operation Minuteman" may become effective and over 400,000 National Guardsmen across the country, including local units, will be alerted, mobilized and placed into action, as a training exercise.

Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commander of the First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, noted yesterday that residents of Cumberland and Allegany County should not be alarmed when the alert comes.

Battalion headquarters, Headquarters Company and Company C, all stationed at the National Guard State Armory here, and Company D of Frostburg, are member units of Col. Matlick's battalion.

The purpose of the operation, is to see how speedily guardsmen can mobilize, and how efficiently they can carry out duties assigned to them in event of an emergency, Col. Matlick explains.

There will be no advance warning of the alert and mobilization. But the operation here will be coordinated with similar activity across the nation. Major General Edgar C. Erickson, National Guard Bureau Chief, coordinator of the alert will give the "green light" to governors and adjutants general in the various states. These in turn will "turn out the guard" in more than 2,000 communities.

There is no indication how soon or how late the operation alert will come. The only notice the National Guard here and elsewhere has, is that it will be "sometime this Spring, after 5 p. m. today."

Col. Matlick said the guard units in this county have always maintained a high level of training and operations efficiency, and the men welcome the opportunity to participate in this training activity.

Such a project, he observed, will put the test of efficiency squarely up to every officer, non-commissioned officer and enlisted man, and at the same time will serve to demonstrate to the general public, how the guard can carry out assignments in case of emergency.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—Dr. Logan Hovis of Parkersburg was elected president of the West Virginia Academy of General Practice for 1956 today, as the organization of family doctors concluded a two-day meeting.

Dr. Hovis will take office next Jan. 1, when the term of Dr. T. Maxfield Barber of Charleston expires. Also elected at today's session was the president for 1957, Dr. Halvard Wanger of Shepherdstown.

Vice president for 1956 will be Dr. Don S. Benson of Moundsville. Dr. Siegle W. Parks of Fairmont was re-elected secretary and Dr. Myer Bogard of Weirton was named to another term as treasurer.

Four new members were elected to the six-man board of directors—Dr. J. Keith Picken of Clarksburg, Dr. Jerome C. Arnett of Rowlesburg, Dr. Charles C. Leonard of Elkins and Dr. Earl Fisher of Gassaway.

About 350 general practitioners from over the state attended the group's third annual scientific assembly.

A gynecologist told the physicians that pregnant women, because they are especially susceptible to polio, should be given priority along with first and second grade school children for the first Salk vaccine shots.

Dr. M. Edward Davis, chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Chicago, expressed his views during a television broadcast incident to his appearance as a speaker.

A single series of shots, the doctor said, may thus protect two lives—those of the mother and her unborn child.

Judge Soper Announces Retirement

82-Year-Old Jurist Asks President For Release On June 2

RICHMOND, April 17 (AP)—Judge Morris A. Soper of Baltimore has announced he is retiring as an active member of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, effective June 2.

The 82-year-old jurist submitted his retirement plans in a letter dated April 15 to President Eisenhower, who will appoint his successor. In it, Judge Soper wrote he will leave the bench 60 years to the day after he became a member of the bar.

Judge Soper is one of three members of the appellate court, which has its headquarters here. The other two are chief Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N.C., and Judge Armistead M. Dobie of Charlottesville, Va.

In importance, a U.S. circuit court of appeals ranks second to the U.S. Supreme Court. It handles all appeals from federal district courts, tax courts, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Trade Commission and the Security Exchange Commission, as well as other governmental agencies.

Judge Soper, who has been a state or federal judge for past 40 years, has served on the circuit court bench since May 9, 1931. He was appointed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Although he is retiring from active duty because of his age, Judge Soper will be available for future assignments, he advised President Eisenhower. The U.S. code provides that retiring judges will continue to hold office after their retirement.

In addition, he will receive his annual $25,500 salary the rest of his life. His pay was boosted this year by Congress from the former $17,500.

Born in Baltimore and educated at Baltimore City College and Johns Hopkins University, he received his law degree from the University of Maryland and served both as an assistant state's attorney in Baltimore and as an assistant federal district attorney.

In 1914 he was elected chief judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore, a post he held until 1921. Two years later he was appointed as the federal judge at Baltimore.

Before being appointed a federal circuit court judge, he was mentioned frequently as a candidate of his party for governor of Maryland. Several times Republican delegations called on him in an effort to persuade him to make the race, but he always declined, insisting he preferred his judicial duties to become involved in a political campaign.

The 4th circuit court meets in Richmond, Asheville, N.C., Charlotte and Baltimore. The circuit includes the states of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland.

Why I Believe In The Life Hereafter

By REV. C. F. FRITH

The Christian needs no proof of life beyond, but for the skeptic or agnostic the following reasons are sufficient, it seems to me, to convince him.

First, Jesus plainly tells His disciples before His death that He would rise from the grave. And so He did, according to all available facts. In the words of the text Jesus assured His disciples that they, like Him, would live: "Because I live, ye shall live also." To question Jesus' authority on this matter would give us reason to question His authority on any other matter. To set aside His teaching on immortality would take out of it one of the very fundamental truths of the entire Bible and the real purpose for which it was written.

Secondly, Jesus proved the immortality of the soul when He raised Lazarus from the grave. If Jesus could bring Lazarus from death surely God can raise you and me from death. These two reasons alone should satisfy our belief in immortality.

However, one could enumerate other strong arguments: For example, when Jesus was transfigured before Peter, James, and John, they each saw in person

Eight County Youth Delegates Receive Honors

Have Measures Passed At Model Legislature

Eight members of the Allegany County delegation to the Maryland Model Legislature were received into the Legislators Club at the 1955 session which closed at Annapolis Saturday.

All were honored with cards in the organization for having bills introduced by them passed by the Youth Senate and House and signed by Boy Governor Matt Tamm of Baltimore.

Their measures were among the bills passed by the Model Legislature before Saturday's adjournment.

Get Recognition

Receiving recognition were Joel Downey, Barbara Montana, Betsy Bampton and Robert Holmes of Beall High School of Frostburg; Richard Johnson and Childre Bridges of Allegany High School; and Fred Sharer and Stanley Wilson of Fort Hill High School.

Gov. Tamm vetoed five of 19 measures passed by the House and Senate, the most controversial which would have allowed high school pupils and teachers to smoke in certain designated areas on public school grounds.

In his final message to the Legislature, the young Estonian boy who became a U. S. citizen only last week advised his colleagues that "a politician worries about the next election; a statesman worries about the next generation."

During the final flurry, the young lawmakers passed a resolution extending thanks and expressing gratitude "to Dr. Jonas E. Salk and his associates for the outstanding work performed in the development of a vaccine to prevent the paralytic effects of infantile paralysis."

Others Praised

Also praised at the final session of the Legislature were Richard Johnson, 647 Sedgwick Street, who was Speaker of the House, and Rodney Breedlove, of Cresaptown, Clerk of the House. Both were members of the Allegany County delegation.

Floyd C. Faulkner of the Baltimore Poly teaching staff, who along with Philip J. Valle, a teacher at Baltimore Southern, received the 1955 Youth and Government Awards, said of Breedlove and Johnson that "they are among the most outstanding legislators the program has had for 12 years."

Michael McLuckie of Beall High was assistant Clerk of the House; Eugene Kidwell, also of Beall, was Sergeant at Arms; Stanley Wilson was Commissioner of Recreation and a member of the governor's cabinet; Barbara Montana was delegation chairman.

Other members of the local delegation sponsored by the Cumberland Central YMCA were Ronald Shanholtzer, William C. Schulthes, Joann Tomlinson, William E. Preston, Marie Goebel, Sandra Loar, Kay Jeffries, Sherrill Petty, Eleanor Murphy, Ellen Beneman, Janet Lee Bradley, Anna Grace Baer, Marjorie Lewis, Wilma Schry, Neal Gillum, Ralph Isminger, Ronald Douglas, Fern Kenney, Ronald Rice, Sue Jones, Ronald E. Lease, Bernard Gross, and Carole Reese.

Local Guardsmen Await Surprise Training Alert

Commander Cautions Against Any Alarm

Anytime after 5 p. m. today, "Operation Minuteman" may become effective and over 400,000 National Guardsmen across the country, including local units, will be alerted, mobilized and placed into action, as a training exercise.

Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commander of the First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, noted yesterday that residents of Cumberland and Allegany County should not be alarmed when the alert comes.

Battalion headquarters, Headquarters Company and Company C, all stationed at the National Guard State Armory here, and Company D of Frostburg, are member units of Col. Matlick's battalion.

The purpose of the operation, is to see how speedily guardsmen can mobilize, and how efficiently they can carry out duties assigned to them in event of an emergency, Col. Matlick explains.

There will be no advance warning of the alert and mobilization. But the operation here will be coordinated with similar activity across the nation. Major General Edgar C. Erickson, National Guard Bureau Chief, coordinator of the alert will give the "green light" to governors and adjutants general in the various states. These in turn will "turn out the guard" in more than 2,000 communities.

There is no indication how soon or how late the operation alert will come. The only notice the National Guard here and elsewhere has, is that it will be "sometime this Spring, after 5 p. m. today."
